Apissa genitus non sunt. In hac tamen disserendo pane reperiuntur opiniones quas non gratia breuitatis non prefatori sed in gratia. Expedit sic altatis ad dignitatem veniendo. Ante omnia ad iniustionem est attendendum quod cum primum ex pulsus dignosceretur natura febris an cum ipsam digerat et euacuet recipiat natura aliter curam operabere quia si sic in principio aduenerit non cognoscere eam ut eiusmodi quod scilicet rem naturam febrium quando non sunt cognoscuntur primo aduenientem. Sed quando non habent nec theca aetica nec in tactu calorem nec caliditatibus nec in pulsu sicut omnes sunt remissa. Propter remissionem simul ambiguitatem ex subtilitate regiminis natura non occupata euadunt si natura erit benigna et pauca. At eam manifestabit si non erit talis. Cogita ergo quod ad curam eius hic pissa dicimus.

Primum tamen dicit esse ventris lenitiuo quod est ex ordine et ideo quod ubi est lenitiuum multiplicat acuitas febris primo. Iterum fecis sitte enant sua fuositate et nocebo et altarans item enant nunc complete que quando corrumpuntur in intestinis repletis ibi complete consumuntur et si non fit de minutione ita intestina sub loco quod suffocatur et gerundet vapores calefactos a febre et nunc ipse inflamate Grauiz quod et directum lenitiuo competat in cum cada quod tunc sed et sed nisi. Item plenitudo et magis per frines ex habita nunc quod est inestimabilis calore febrium corrumpunt et infudat visus mesetas na si non monet et ibi residet fatiat ipse complete erit tum apale at inflammationis epate et corruptionis chimi transferet ad epar. Et habitis atque quando post clistia. Et si in firmum debeat assistet non in hiis febribus sed multum diligenda. Item si accipe noluit clistere a non potest dare lenitiuum pro frinis ut cassiam et manna et syrupum violaceum et alia ordinata et accipiunt fractionem deglutiunt statim quod in tale regulariter operando non si in intestino esset fetos multum exiccatum et opilatio et fecis ita quod et cum tristibus vnctuosis et lenitiuis fetens ipse educi non poluerunt tunc oportet transferre ad clistia fetida fecit non decoctionem agarici polipodii catarum et huiusmodi item si apparuerit quod est putrida humorum fugidorum mundorum in intestino at quod patiens tenesmum et in fuber apponit et huiusmodi tunc cathartice ad acutam clisteria transferre oportet tamen tunc dicit sit fiet syrupus violaceus. Et sit vltimus lenificatio non flumus nero non soluens laboriosa. Et per eam tibi satisfactum esse puto si ecce positio quod tibi in sequentibus satisfaciendi in terminis et cum ipsis descriptores satis quod lenitiua sit quod sit viscosa et dilatatiue sit fiat inter cum ipsis dilatatae plane sufficienti et sit maxime illius etc. per eam planum loco assistit at currit corporis huius dilatata hec extensione et sunt

Non nulla tamen alia acciden-

Tam secundum declaratum principale et verificatum praedictarum dispositionum per earum causas et signa. Tertium nunc restat viri denique dispositionis naturalis unde curam sive ipsius distincta contrariae quae hic dicit primo ex causis dispositionis singularis productis. Secundo etiam ex signis universalibus et particularibus demonstrativis singularis constitucionis. Tertio etiam ex accidentibus quibus ex parte [illegible] constitucionem cum naturalibus constitucionibus divisim reficiantur. Secundo in praemissis dispositionibus declarandis parum est tempore contemplandi et sonibus et auribus discernendi. Et quia lumen est vim per alias cedere sine demonstratione sed et eas primo. Prima igitur hujus viri dispositio est mala quae facit et hic cerebri quae aut est a qualitate tantum aut a tempore cum hic divisio estimat singularis constitucionis essentialiter. Videtur aut quod cerebrum ejus a qualitate non sit distemperatum in frigore et humiditate. Secundo quod ex signis a capitibus hic declarari potest facies etiam hujus viri et tota cutis capitis ipsius mixta rubedine coloratur. Secundo capilli ca-pitis plurimi sunt et satis grossi licet ad molliciem tendentes et sunt mixta albedine colorati. Tertio cutis ejus ex parte substantialiter inhaerenti tactu perceptum calida notabiliter et lenis. Tamen efficiuntur quae ab apparacione digestive potentie continue mediocriter sunt digestiva in sua satis adepte in colore suo albedine mixta participantes ut sunt in pluribus accidentibus licet nunc in actu expulsionis perpendatur. Sed ac omnia hic facile declarari potest ex parte operacionum aliarum potentiarum sensitivarum sensibus exterioribus eo quia obiectorum tangibilium eum impressiones et facile consequenter percipiuntur distinguntur et consumantur.

Similiter in sensu visus naturaliter sunt bene dispositus in apprehendendo obiecta omnia usque ad distanciam magnam et in suo colore alba vel rubea sunt in sua quantitate ut magna vel parva in sua figura ut longa vel sperica in eorum situ ut infixa vel supra situata in eorum superficie vel plano continuitate vel separatione solida vel separata in eorum se habendi modo ut mobilia vel quieta. Quae omnia omnia arguunt bonitatem et perfectionem visive potentie. Ad hunc etiam gustativa potentia exit in actum convenienter percipiendi dulce acerbum ponticum et acetum etc. et distinguitur inter illa. Et etiam in olfactiva potentia existente debiliter aut potenter sub modo delicie vel tristicie impressiones apprehendit vel percipit et inter illa distinguit. Similiter etiam exteriores motus diversos sonandi modos sibi appropriandos sub specie acuitatis ut tinnitus sub specie gravitatis ut tonitruum etc. et cum convenienter percipit. Igitur apparet quod principalius exteriorum sensuum et situ et convenienter cerebrum ipsius est bene dispositum amplius etiam dispositio caliditatis in cerebro hujus viri apparet per ex parte operationum interiorum sensuum sensus communis quia velox est et certus in discernendo vel distinguendo operaciones exteriorum sensuum.
Similiter etiam fantasia quae ponitur in prima parte medio [illegible] ventriculi cerebri et sibi speciales a sensu communi sibi delatas recipit et modificat et etiam ymaginativa potentia velociter exit in actum apprehendendi componendi et dividendi. Similiter vocatur et est et conveniens est frigida et humida malis in cerebro isto acculis est et a tpe per mg ve regimen potorum et male ob-servatum. Et sic videtur apparet declaratio prime dispositionis eius similiter quod iste vir comportat mala complexione frigida et humida mali cerebri et accidentaliter in eo acquisita.

Ex quorum est fundamento consideratis necessario patet quod mala complexio in eo est fixa maxime cum sicut quod arguit longitudo temporis ipsius languoris et non possit dispergi contra pectus male complexionis sicut per colligantiam stomachi et conservationem dependens a membris superioribus ut stomacho, epate vel aliis ut in posterum videri patet. Hec etiam in summa est prime dispositionis ipsius apta declaratio.

Capitulum tertium male compositionis ipsius sive aut declarando in hoc casu esse nocumentum cerebri huius viri precedens et compositione non natura-lem cerebri. Est autem mala compo-sitio eius opilatio coartatoria quedam procedens a multitudine materie coartante vias cerebri per quas vias necessario arterias et venas in panniculis eius et medullari substantia disseminatas in quibus etiam quas mucilaginosa materia multiplicata per indigestionem coartatum facit ad quam secundum materie retentio et aug-mentatio que est aggravativa. Unde caput eius dolet continuis molestia maxime aut minus secundum augmentum quantitatem materie peccantis et communiter non solum in venis et arteriis extendendo eas, sed etiam inter panniculos cerebri, et in substantia eorum detinet ideo secundam speciem doloris efficere possunt extensivum nominatum. Et si contingat hunc materiem ad mixtionem aut salsedinis eo pervenire, doloribus complicati prout dolores pungitivi et mordicati secundum speciem materie que commiscetur flegmati mucilaginoso. Et item si materia post hunc materiem continue in con-cavitate arteriarum, ad ipsam fit pulsatio dolor secundum materiem diversitatem. Ex quo fundamento valde facile nunc sequitur quod iste vir iste quandoque percipit cum cuiusdam capitis extensionem ac si magni-ficaret caput eius aut premeret ac si pungeretur panniculi ad spinam vel aculei, et pulsationem magis circa tempora in temporibus et toto capite. Et item ex hoc fundamento concluditur quod si materia ista non solum in venis et arteriis aut poris cerebri persistit, contineat sed etiam in originibus nervorum de septe-paribus que oriuntur a cerebro tunc necessario contingerent nocumenta dimi-nutionis in operationibus illorum mediis virtutum si opilatio illa semicompleta fuit. Ex quo fundamento item subtiliter et pulcre particulariter declarari potest nocumenta operationum sensus tactus si etiam semicompleta fuit opilatio nervis qui expanduntur per cutem capitis tunc nocumentum diminutionis in sensu tactus sentit in tota cute capitis exterius et iste est ille stupor qui in capite suo percipitur. Et si item contingat quod hec opilatio contingat seu accidat in nervis dispersis per cutim totius corporis tunc in toto percipietur stupor sicut fit in tota spina eius.

Si autem hunc materiem commiscetur aliquid ventositatis vel vaporis peccantis extremum tunc fit quod cum stupore seu cum diminuta sensatione in cute ipsius percipietur motus vestigatus, et iste vere est ille motus vel sensatio preter naturam quem hic vir formicationem nominat in sua spina percurrentem non circa hic extendere que et alia nocumenta contingunt in operationibus aliorum sensuum quia hoc facile necessario per ex hoc fundamento et maxime in viro perito in noticia originis septem parium nervorum a cerebro oriencium et cum per te considera quod talia non sunt multum de proposito isto et a me sepe in aliis declarata copiosius fuerint hec de accidente isto secundo premisso superius pertractat.

Capitulum quartum manifestationem vertiginis huius viri videtur iterum necessarium esse declarare modum causalem vertiginis in hoc viro. Est autem vertigo ista per quam homini habenti eam apparet ut medium et res alteres supra ipsum existentes volvantur in girum / ita ut appareat egro cerebrum ipsius revolvi adeo ut se a casu continere non possit immo aliquando ca-dit. Provenit autem hec dispositio a multitudine vaporum vel ventositatum que in anteriori parte capitis comprehenduntur spiritum cum et revolutione movent spiritum. Ex cuius motu potentie sensitive scilicet tactus apparet quod cerebrum et omnes partes capitis ro-tatu moveantur. Necesse est aliter potentiam sensitivam sentire per quod offertur ab obiecto vel speciebus eius. Tale autem obiectum est vapor vel ventositas circulariter mota que spiritum eadem specie motus circulariter movet, ex quo motu spiritus tali facto communicantur organa moventur. Unde potentia etiam sensitiva immutatur. Ex motu ergo obiectorum moventur instrumenta quorum motu moventur organa. Ex consequenti immutatur potentie unde licet obiectum et spiritus immutatio sit spiritus potentia tamen sensitiva iudicat motum in exterioribus et ideo apparet quod in hoc est deceptio in sensu tactus percipientis motum exterius quod nequaquam movetur. Unde ex hoc fundamento apparet quod vertigo est dispositio consimilis spiritui ter-tius appetita apparet secundo quod potest esse talis dispositio interiori spiritui et apparatu ymaginacionis. Sic etiam hic nocumentum et similia contingunt autem ori parti ventriculi ipsius cerebri [illegible] pare quod nocumentum accidit ymaginacioni ut iam dictum est et patet. Ex hoc fundamento iterum quod declarari potest quod vertigo est nocumentum corruptive proximus visive potentie. Sic ergo vertiginosis contingit apparere rem per motum a vertiginoso factum ut satis est declaratum est propter visiva po-tentia cerebri in medium parte [illegible] motum eo quia spiritus visibilis tali motu palpitantis qui vexit ad circu-lum reputabit in eo motu circulare errans ergo potentia visiva propter motum in exterioribus locis que consimi-lis iam in predictis est. Quarto item ex hoc fundamento apparet colligitur quod hec dispositio secunda et verecunda est eo quia ut in pluribus nocumentum eius in visiva potentia tactiva et imaginativa co-municatur et adhuc non ex hoc fundamento apparet quod hec dispositio cum perseverat potest inducere epilentiam vel apoplexiam multiplicata materia ipsius ita ut non pos-sit evaporando minorari sed motum plene opilando aut complete ventri-culos cerebri ut intelligenti apparet. Quid hoc autem considerandum est quod hec dispositio a principio causam non raro procedit sicut iam in pueris aut aliis supersunt capiunt gratiam revolutionis et sic apparet esse hominum quod qui distrahitur a loco circulari motu. Et sic consequenter hominibus quod hic [illegible] gratiam rotulis revolutionem [illegible] quod cum a motu tali ces-sat ad terram cadit. Et sic apparet in cerebro ~~in cerebro~~ hominis [illegible] vesi-cam motum [illegible] in pluribus autem in motibus apparet in nagenim [illegible] species [illegible] ab obiecto dense et recepte et reservate in organis sensuum representa-te igitur imagines consimiles que per longum tempus impresse detineantur faciunt apparere [illegible] Et similiter hec dispositio contingere potest post aspectum rote que rotatur mo-vetur sicut in rota fabri et molendini [illegible] propter. Et hec omnia [illegible] sensit [illegible] [illegible] dum [illegible]. Et hec quod vertigo [illegible] accidit homini propter quod revolvit [illegible] secundum interiores partes elevando et capitis deponendo [illegible] et [illegible] propter que motu revolvuntur [illegible] abiecta quantitatem sicut qui sensa contigit quandoque fit propter contrarium ut ad res que revolvuntur sub similitudine et fixio ita ut instrumenti vel imprimatur forma illa sensati in anima vel sepe ab obiecto infixa in strumento et organo moveat potencias ut iam dictum est. Hec litera magis vult ostendere quam quod ab speciebus ob iectorum externis in modo gira tum revolutionis in spiritibus et in organis potest imprimi et remanere rupciones sicut s. contingit moderata gravatio in spiritibus ab interioribus ventositatibus et vaporibus fetidis continuacionem organorum et potencias ut pre dictum est. Sentencie istius sic contingit principaliter et propter hoc dixi quod opera operacionis simplicis pendet ex instru mentis corporis fungentibus quorum primum distinguitur est spiritus simplex et vivacitatis in ipso ab obiecto sensato forma vel species enim per eius s. separatio in sensatum vel obiectum fuit forte vel potens ad imprimendum. Unde ut simile non efficit in instrumento simili impressionem vel speciem ut aliquorum que est sibi simile deinde confirmatur forma illa in anima propter quod confirmatur ut disposi cio propter species in organo confirmatas et retentas et evanescit vel dato quod removeatur obiectum nichilominus impressio in quantitate vel in vehemencia vel dis posicione recepcionis instrumenti s. spiritus et fortitudine sensati s. obiecti vehementer imprimentis et hoc quando sit primitus similiter consideracionis propter quod contingit hominibus vero s. speculacionis ex parte continue in scientia naturali vide sicut contingit similiter contemplando eorum ad intelligenciam disposicionis hunc corporis esse medium speculantes.

Et potest simile non vero eam quod liquorum disposicio in hoc vero a quantitate causa sic potuit ipsa tamen adhuc postquam sine causa efficientis remocionem resignata et fixa remansit. Sunt autem causa vehemens et similes motus in spiritibus ani-malibus et in cerebro suo similis a simili et vehemencia potentia tollunt propter quod ad terras prostrati nolunt tempore permansit.
Et maxime infirmat hoc quam ex cellencie simplicium corrumpunt sensum secundo de anima.

Nam quoniam de debilitate retentive potencie fecit in ministerio et medio molem corporis sustentantibus. Si di ligenter consideratur precedentes tali summa apparet satis leviter posse de duci debilitas sustentative pone tur enim in cerebro quod est organum

Capitulum 2m de parte de regimine hominis per exercitium et quietem. Quoniam ex longa huiusmodi vero omnino caven/tendum est ne per ipsam fiat an/gustiatum in membris que evapo/rando et remolliendo consumitur et enervantur magis sicut nocet. Sed cum exercitium et ipse post eius [illegible] tam sibi aptitudinem convenit ad consumendum superfluitates que per di/gestionem secundam et tertiam in [illegible] solet ita dimisso ipsius est [illegible] superfluitatum eorum non [illegible] omnino et quies postinne hunc [illegible] sed quia ad corporis longam applicationem prohibetur resolutio et [illegible] superfluitatum que consumi debent per exercitium. Circa 2m primi doctrina [illegible] et summa [illegible] capitulo 1o [illegible] [illegible] Avicenna [illegible] per [illegible] et [illegible] ipsius [illegible] caloris et [illegible] que [illegible] et [illegible] superfluitatum. In hoc attendit quod exercitium omne [illegible] concludat omnem [illegible] sicut est [illegible] et circa [illegible] et [illegible] et [illegible] attendendo et descendendo sepe [illegible] usque quo corpus eius [illegible] ad augmentum rubendi coloris et cali/ditatis [illegible] ad anhelitum magis [illegible] et lenis et [illegible] et spissi.

Capitulum 3m de administratione sompni et vigilie. Quoniam hinc [illegible] [illegible] longo [illegible] longo sompno [illegible] ab hoc [illegible] fugiendo est et ad [illegible] excessum vigilare magis quam sompni si oportuit id [illegible] [illegible] et [illegible] superfluitates [illegible] ita et per sompnum longum et sic [illegible] [illegible] mensuram [illegible] calor vigorat et superfluitates consumuntur itaque [illegible] vigilat. Et in hoc videtur hoc in [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 2a primi summa [illegible] [illegible] Sompnus quieti [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] est superfluitas [illegible] et vigi/lia motui similis valde. Mensura itaque sompni naturalis est ut vir ipse dormiat [illegible] horis ad minus [illegible] ad [illegible] quolibet tempore [illegible] dormiendi mensura amplior [illegible] ei in hieme quam in estate et in vere quam in autumpno [illegible] [illegible] tanta dormiendi mensura naturalis calor vigoratur et eius [illegible] fortificatur eo quod non tanto fit calo/ris [illegible] in sompno quanto in vigilia. Mensura autem vigilandi [illegible] [illegible] esse [illegible] quam dormiendi [illegible] quia [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in vigilando [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] consumendo superfluitates quam in resolvendo naturalem calorem [illegible].

Capitulum 4m de quieti [illegible] repletionis et [illegible]. Hoc in [illegible] non [illegible] aliquid dicere de repletione [illegible] [illegible] de [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ad [illegible] medicinam magis quam non [illegible] Sed de repletione [illegible] et [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] vir ipse omnino fugiat [illegible] eius repletionem [illegible] et [illegible] [illegible] remaneat [illegible] appetere potentie naturalis [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] et potum assumere. Dicit quod [illegible] [illegible] comedendo vel bibendo plene [illegible]. [illegible] 3 primi [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] non appetitum [illegible] comedere et bibere [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] et [illegible] adhuc [illegible] re/manere. [illegible] [illegible] cibum et potum assumendi mensuram [illegible] [illegible] ut [illegible] et fluctuatio a [illegible] [illegible]. Tunc enim [illegible] [illegible] et [illegible] applicatur [illegible] calido [illegible] resolvendo [illegible] et [illegible] non [illegible] [illegible]

Ambra

Septimum simplex est ambra de qua

Quidam enim dicunt quod ipsa est sperma de ea reperitur et quod ambra est humor de terra grossa pinguis et viscosa a suffumigationibus in mari [illegible] missa toynostam consuetudine conformitate que est i. ex complexionali que est oppositum a forte quod curabile est quod ideo superius in renibus apparet, prius non fuit vel in posterius clarius ostendetur. Et aliud capitulum in pre-puncto proxima ordinem habet et quam in renibus multiplex probat per primo quod dolor ille in locis renum esse cogit ubi est dolor in consuetudine narrat. Et assertionem et quod 2o illud probatur quia et si dolor perambulet partes spine fixus tamen manet in partibus renum et maxime circa partes 3o probatur illud quod igitur quod in urina renum aliud arenas vel arenulas quod prima sabulo-sa arene scilicet per multarum arenarum et lapillorum exitum urine dicitur et arenule que sunt in renibus quod eorum prima aggregatur quoniam in eis. Et collectum s. hic proximo ab ipso assertionem. Ideo i. sermone Avicenne in urina arenose ypostasis sunt, et quod 2a pars i. quod significat renibus secundum ypostasim arenosa ypostasis semper significat lapidem qui consolidatur aut consolidandus preterit aut qui resolutus. 2o probatur idem per inventa quorum s. quod in renibus huius modi est quod quando per arenas quod sunt s. quod dolor iste citius removetur. Unde quando quando stante illorum dolorum continuatione vadunt in quoque proximo illorum dolorum continuatur et aliqualis minuitur ex prima vocis proprietate [illegible] et 3o hoc aliud signum hic distinguit dolores renum a lapide provenientes ut 3a vi 2n et 2o collici, 5o dicta in dolorem renum lapidosum et collicum Secundo de illud ibi Unde per hoc quod dolores isti predicabant impellandi annorum inter unum primum et aliud in-cidente. Cum autem non sit ratione maioris lapidis et lapillorum generatio ex ira sed in tempore prolixo et non accidit regio arenarum et lapillorum proximus nisi cum multe sunt arene et lapilli magnitudinis non apud proprietatem simul cum urina per porum sem-tuli collabentur. Hoc [illegible] est quod inter unum proximum et alterum infirmitatis tempore multo et tanto quanto prius prolixum tempus continuo prius collabuntur sunt lapides magis et econtrario cum [illegible] velocitatis renovationis doloris a parte particula illud probatur vero quod dolores renum ab arenis et a lapide provenientes sunt adeo circa velud dolores colle-rum ad horum velocem renovationem sequitur minima efficacia magis hac ratione quam in collica. Primo urinarum aquositas que lapilli-sua lapillos destruit facit et cum descendit sua illos a loco in quo erant removet. Et adhuc quia urina sine puncto vehementi maxime expulsiva. 2m vero ad [illegible] principale est quia apparent re-simul cum urina vehementius apparent in eis urinalibus quam in collica 3m inmanentium principale est quod tam quam communicat lapillos et abscidere possibile et esse melius actuacionem in renibus. Hic quod magis ipsius ad quorum curam a forti medicina et debilitat. Agitur in intestinis unum cum aliis partibus. Et [illegible] sit apud visitato 2i actuum et per conclusionis scilicet quod curatio sit in renibus Et non item curatio colicus vero in renibus iam apparent per totum adiuet visitatur primum puncto supra tacti 3m hic animaduertens in 1o puncto precepta scilicet quod curatio sit in renibus quia urine ipsius renum arenose et lapidose et similiter primum distinguitur inter collicam et dolorem renum a lapillis provenientem ut 10a 3a altera in fine. Et potest confirma-ri hic quia stante predicta doloris administratio diureticorum et comminuentium lapides confert et dolorem alleviat et tollit tertio signum quod est quod [illegible] sunt in renibus prout quarta quia [illegible] non possunt consequi in collica [illegible] non sit [illegible] renum. Quarto principaliter et que apparent in iiii puncto visitatio quod licet dispositio [illegible] quibusdam que superius adducta sunt ad visitatio

Contra dolorem renum a colica secundum punctum et ad probandum quod significatur egritudine lapidis veri esse in renibus eius et in quibus signis forma convenit similem lapidi. Multas igitur solemus tenere circa ad lapidem in punctis adducere possum ultra quae secundo puncto declarata sunt nisi prolixitatem timerem sed illum hic intendens est. Et cum alter ventre in superiori et in loco alterum et in molle vesice percipitur dolor perveniens quod cogit hominem ut emittat ad meatum et sepe indigetur non facile concludi potest illa egritudo esse in renibus et sunt principales signa in 2º et 3º duo signa. Et ille qui mingit urinam rubeam quam multotiens in meatum multum stringit in renibus est eius egritudo. Ad hoc quod utitur vehementius probari potest per allevia(tionem) doloribus quae sequitur ad emissionem urine ut superius tactum est per in loco [illegible] situantur [illegible] in sinistro vel dextro. Item quia quando est lapis ec in alto renum vel in utroque et est dolor ille non valde magnus nisi contingat lapidem esse notabiliter magnum quam dolor incipit [illegible] et fixus permanet. In colica vero [illegible] dextrum et [illegible] sequens dolor est magnus et adhuc incipit inferius in parte dextra lateris [illegible] eum a [illegible] intestino aput colon incipit et ascendit per [illegible] dextrum super fundum stomachi ad sinistrum [illegible] descendendo quod quando non remanet fixus sed renalis dolor licet cum colica [illegible] incipit de sinistra parte [illegible] illud est valde raro. Cum vero lapis in renibus accepta a [illegible] signorum scilicet ex [illegible] doloris et tertia dolor sequitur lapidem in renibus usque superiores partes magis ascendit et raro usque ad [illegible]. Colica vero dolor [illegible] extendit se usque ad partes anteriores renalis dolor et si [illegible] descendit usque anteriores fortior tamen est in posteriori parte renum. Colica vero dolor est [illegible]. Amplius dolor renalis magis [illegible] in partibus [illegible] ad [illegible] renalis colica vero non. Signum vero quod ex [illegible] sumuntur sunt quia [illegible] [illegible] fastidium et vomitus licet eveniat in dolore renum a lapide et [illegible] in colica et [illegible] ad dolores in [illegible] [illegible] tamen ex vomitu in dolore renum est [illegible] quia illud [illegible] in colica. Signum vero quod sumitur ex [illegible] signorum scilicet ex urina et [illegible] [illegible] sunt quod quando lapis in renibus [illegible] aliquando [illegible] urina [illegible] et [illegible] in [illegible] est [illegible] quia est [illegible] causa lapidis. Amplius illius [illegible] esse [illegible] ab [illegible] in [illegible] [illegible] quia [illegible] sola [illegible] in colica sunt [illegible] et [illegible] urine [illegible] lapis renum tenuis [illegible] [illegible] eius [illegible] causa [illegible]. In colica vero necessario [illegible] [illegible] signa [illegible] [illegible] cum [illegible] [illegible]. Amplius dolor renalis procedit [illegible] ut [illegible] et [illegible] declinationes doloris renum [illegible] quia [illegible] lapillus a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] parte aut [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] quod fiat [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] procedit [illegible] [illegible] colicam. Fleuma putridum reumatice potentie expirantem species consiles et per eandem com-prehenditur in particulis cerebri motum ex-tensum, et in organis auditus percipitur velut motus a vento et consimilibus proveniens.

Et vero iterum multitudo sputaminis proveniens in eo a multitudine flatus predictorum que generantur capite et mittit virtute ad eorum expulsionem, et quia non sit via convenien-cium per colatorium per os et per nares, ideo multiplicatur in eo cumulus per omnia loca iam dicta. Et attendat bene quod si hec materia convenienter expelleretur expuendo habe-mus ei; si enim ipsam congregaretur ita quod multiplicatam caperetur in pectore esset casus ad asmate vel ortomie aut tussis difficilis que omnia forent valde verenda. Et forte quod aliquid istorum in ipso iam cepit accidere. Collectio ex predictorum fundamentis valde facile intelligere potest iste doctor quod vena eius in colore flavo et contentis attestatur omnibus flatus. Reg. nam colica mea per vias opilatas ut superius declaratum est, consuetudine potest in quantum quia sufficienter tingat venam colore citrino vel subcitrino vel rufo, licet quod multa in eo sit colera, tamen non multiplicatur in vijs venalibus et in loco generationis eius scilicet vene propter causam iam dictam scilicet opilationem.
Ex quibus omnibus ad quod iste vir pon-derare debet istam dispositionem non leve estimando ipsam, immo valde graviorem.
Cum quia regimine esset debet ut nunc scribetur. Primo lapsus [illegible] non est vel [illegible] nominando vel aliqua intendatur, sed ipse est lapsus qui est necessitatis decedentis, aptus est enim [illegible] vir cadere in egritudines et acutas predentis tale in fine declarati. Et est lapsus frigidus et humidus, ideo indiget regimine preservante desiccante et confortante substantialiter. Unde ad quod ad eadem applicare omnia inferius ex parte rerum non naturalium et innaturalium que secundum par-tem sunt c. et s. convenientia lapsui et sue causa mali et generant ad preservationem ex parte humiditatis et omnis caliditatis propter quod magis debet in locis c. et s. caliditate non multum intensa fore exsicca-tivus siccitate intensiori caliditate.
Unde aer camere et loci habitacionis eius sit naturaliter c. et s. aut artificialiter factus ut habeat aspectum ad meridionalem plagam vel orientalem et sit camera eius tabulis bene munita, reliquaque in quo tempore frigoris incendatur ignis satis intensus ex lignis abietis, iuniperi, lignis lauri et consimilium plantarum. Et sit factus ut de bursa et similibus quorum copia est in celeberrima urbe veronensi. Et si in camera sua ignis incendatur resi-ne terebentine laricum et aliarum generum ut pinorum lignis abietis et similium, erit valde bonum, saltem a principio mensis octobris usque per totum mensem februarii.
Similiter in cibis et in potibus observari debet ut declinent ad calidum et siccum naturaliter vel artificialiter commiscendo cibaria cum herbis solutis radicibus et seminibus calefactivis et exsiccativis. Comedat igitur panem de puriori parte farine cum fermenti parte maiori quam sit communis panis, et sit bene coctus duorum vel trium dierum vel plus. Comedat carnes animalium iuvenum non valde pingues nec unctu-osas neque sint accepte ex animalibus in aqua degentibus, propter quod carnes vitulorum castratorum iuvenum et caprorum suo tempore, pullorum gallinarum et caponum sunt ei convenientes et meliores inter eas sunt volu-crum et ipse habitantes in terris et locis silvestribus sublimibus. In summa carnes omnium quadru-pedum silvestrium ut gazele, leporis et similium sunt ei meliores quam domesticorum.
Et ita carnes volatilium velut perdicum, fasianorum, turturum, merularum, turdorum, ficedularum et aliarum avium minutarum sunt ei valde laudabiles carnes. Carnes salite mane valde bene conveniunt ei.
Piscium vero usus non michi placet nisi saxatilium aut recentium ut sunt torentine variole, perdam ingressiones et specie carpiones quorum multitudo frequenter habundat in urbe Veronensi dotata eis a natura inter alia loca totius orbis. Uva cete convenient ei omni materia preparationis sed non frequenter frixos ex eis. Casei vero Veronensis [illegible] nobilitatis et elegantia bonitate omnem alium caseum totius orbis precellit usus ei est gratus. Butirum vero non [illegible] bene laudo sibi sicut alium Ve-ronensem quod summa sui bonitate quasi balsamo in virtute comparatur. Herbarum vero minutarum fructuum usum non eum [illegible] ve-lut sunt lactuce, spinachia, petrosilium, bleta, endivia et cicorea et consimilia, et c.

Regule in assumendo cibum

Ita in presenti casu declarata est decquate ciborum conveniencia ecc. de quantitate eorum ad supradicenda et repetendo dicimus primo quod hic dominus inquantum ad saturitatem repletam dicit cibum accipe, unde melius est ei esse parum et aucupium in cibacione et potu eius ne quantitas multa per viam compressionis innatum calorem debilitet. Secundo dicimus quod inquantum accipiat cibum nisi senciat pastum primo esse complete digestum, hic autem percipit ipse quando verus et naturalis appetitus supervenerit. ei. Tercio dicimus quod inquantum accipiat cibum nisi bene per masticacionem comminutum. Quarto dicimus quod inquantum in parte evitet assumpcionem plurium ciborum in una mensa qui diverse sint speciei, sicut in una mensa comedere carnes pullinas castratinas vitulinas domesticas silvestres antiquas iuvenes caseum fructus et aliqua diversitas enim dicte diversitas efficit in fine ut inmixtura contraria diversitate digestionem... Ultimo dicimus quod in comedendo non prolonget tempus valde ut est plurimum consuetudo quod tempus duarum horarum expendunt. De exercitio non naturali dicimus quod quamvis ei post cibum sedere et quiescere quam ambulare moveri saltem motibus fortibus sicut equitare vel motes ascendere. Pro tercio non naturali caveat sibi a dormicione saltem post cibum facta cum merito nisi transierit duabus horis et dormiat capite mediocriter elevato primo super dextro latere deinde in sinistro quiescet et primus bene receptus existat et caveat a dormicione diurna saltem a mense septembris usque ad marcium. Et hic est unum diem et noctem quod dormiverit saltem per spacium vii vel viii horarum si autem dormiverit minori tempore ille tunc melius esset supplere eum dormicione diurna magis quam dimittere. De ultimo non naturali scilicet de accidentibus anime evitanda sunt omnia que fortes motus efficiunt in spiritibus et humoribus ut sunt furor iracundia et ea ex quorum applicacione contrarietatibus velociter debilitantur spiritus et stringuntur ut sunt tristicia meditacio saltem de re in lucrosis impressiones efficiente hic de regimine per res naturales pertractabat. De aliis non medicinalibus accedamus. Item principaliter obstanda saltem pacium unum in quo tempore sufficit inducere se ad disposicionem bonam et servare regimine ciborum et potuum modo predicto.

Alio enim lapsus in eo consequitur opilatio epatis eius quia epar attractum in concavo quam in gibbo epatis eius Et licet ex parte ex malis spiritibus opilatio-aut ex viscositate tamen opilationes frequen-tissime sunt propter destructionem subiectivi quod frigidum et siccum invenitur et ex parte

Et hoc quidem ut in pluribus invenitur hiis viarum et parum productarum strictu-tandum est quia licet epar eius a generapaucitas viarum strictura Licet ergo in hoc viro epatis eius frequenter evenientes et raro a medicis bene cognita propter quod omnibus fere me-eveniens a lapsu et a materia frigida propter quod ex hoc fundamento est colligendum quod frequenter opilationes epatis accidens et recedens in hoc viro plurimum sequitur capitulo apparere potest fundamentum eligeoppilaciones epatis, humiditati et aliorum membrorum que sequuntur ad illas. Unde in equando regimine pro rebus non naturalibus quantum ad primum euitare debet locum frigidum et humidum valde, aerem humidum multum vaporosum et nebulosum. In quarta parte non volo prolongare sermo-nem ut non sit possibile regulare unicui-que naturas rerum preservationis ut conseruationis conuenienter apponere quoniam in-conuenienter homini dedito armorum officio potest apponere normam regularem unicui-que diu die noctu quia tales naturas oportet sentire aeri calido sicco humido ventoso vaporoso et similibus aliis fere innumerabilibus. In cuius quidem fine ve-ritatem nichil melius dici potest nisi quod homo sibi precaueat in quantum potest ab incursu eorum ex quorum applicatione propter in seipsum notabile fieri nocumentum. Propter quod pro 2a re non naturali scilicet sompno et vigilia quasi consimiliter dicimus nisi quod dormiat saltem parum et diminute multum est huic valde nociuum magis quam excedere mensuram vel aliqualiter prolixe dormiendo. Unde et sibi in accidentibus accidit quantum poterit modum apponat ita ut saltem ab ira furore quantum potest se abstinere debet.

Et hoc significo dico quoniam indicacione sumpta a naturali complexione que colerica est valde iste non est minus pronus ad velocem et fortem iracundiam quam sit sulphur ad velocem inflammacionem ex ignis applicatione, et non minus promte iste ruit a magna iracundia contrarie paratus est quam ab excessu in cibis et potibus disconuenientibus ei. De 4a vero re non naturali scilicet de repletione et inanitione dicimus quod eum mensura realis assignari non potest. Multa enim a cibo et po-tu abstinencia quando necessaria esset facere produceret ipsum ad inflammacionem spiritus et ad consimiles febres que facile possent accidere colericis et sanguine eo producere ad febres generales aut propter calorem vigoratum in tali abstinentia fiet ebullicio plus in humoribus primo calefactum esse in spiritibus cor-ruptis eorum medicis que in stomacho reponuntur a calore intensiori facta propter abstinenciam quam tollerare famem quam sunt putredinis repletis humoribus.

3a pars de regimine cibi et potus secundum vero si multa cibi et potus quantitate acceptarum et ingluuiose eorum deglutiuerentur absque masticatione continue produceret ipsum valde facile et cito ad egritudines de repletione. Unde in hoc attendat ut quantitate insur-git ei naturalis appetitus ad cibum et po-tum illico comedat cibum conuenienter masticando et non vorando deglutiendo sicut et potum omnem paulatim haustum moderate et non fluctuando deglutire debet. De ultima vero re non naturali scilicet de cibo et potu dicimus quod cauendo cibaria que oppilationes efficere possunt siue sic cibi cibales siue me-dicinales. Et quia cibarium omne oppilatiuum est aut quia multum aut quia grossum aut quia viscosum aut quia valde frigidum est, ideo in excessione ciborum caueat a multo cibo ex cuius assumpcione stomachus grauis et extensus fiat. Secundo caueat a cibis grossis velut est panis furfuratus antiquus durus bis coctus et ponderosus et nutrimenta que sunt velut lentes fabe carnes bouine et vaccine et antiquorum arietum et castitorum et pisces magni et solidi corporis euitare debet. Similiter effugiat viscosa cibaria que sunt maxime ca-cinii et caseus mollis et viscosus neruose et panniculares animalium partes et cutes et pisces consimiles istis ut anguillas tencas pingues carnes parcinas et capras et similia similiter et secundo euitare debet cibaria fri-gida valde. Unde et propter hoc non placet michi aput eum usus la-ctuce spinacie, bleta et cucur. Usus multus neque pirorum citriorum et granatorum acetum usus nisi talia con-misceatur et confragantur cum calidis et aromaticis conuenienter. Ex quo autem quod in potu euitare debet omnino vinum grossum conturbatum, valde ponticum

Capitulum 91 De motu tremulo cordis et quandoque saltuoso cum diffi- cultate et diversitate in anhelitu de mala complexione cum tensione de- sponsione in canali fellis destente ad intestina cum vesica de mala complexione cum renum quam tamen feces eius ut in pluribus tante de concavo epatis in gibbo superflua iterum extractione chili fieri gitur hoc ex sermonibus fen 15 (?) tractatu 19 fen. tractatu de mictu puris et sanguinis. Unde diligenti gravanti non est apparere incurabile sed hec egritudo suspitionem portendit non levem ut premissum est. Et quo ad hec species male complexionis diversa sit ex frigiditate et siccitate contra faciliter ex multis combinis deduci possit, sed mala complexiosiccitatem satis probat tempus longe durantem vel ipse demonstrat varie-tas afflictionis eius ex intensa et remissa dulcis (?) hominis apparere quod etiam confirmat varietas accidentium qua nunc intensiora nunc remissiora apparent gravanti diligenter. Et vos itaque premisso regimine eius ex parte rerum non naturalium paulisper discurrendum est prius deinde et medicinarum conscribendum est. Pro primo itaque expeditione hic venerabilis pater evitare debet mansionem et loca multe caliditatis et humiditatis multe. Siccitas enim aeris aliquanta conveniens est ei unde effugiat dormitionem in cella terrea multum humida et vaporibus aqueis refecta. Caveat etiam a strictura vestium super stomacho ypocondria et super renibus facta. Caveat etiam ab omni exercitio vel motu immoderato et precipue super equos facto et omni modo exercitandi quo solet caput et pectus inclinari effugiendum est ab eo, et in summa quantum potest quiescere melius est ei usquequo erit plene medicatus quam motus maius in futuro potest ut patet ex auctoritate Avicenne, quoniam autem motus corpora perturbat declarat naturalem. Et ex etiam in ipso virtus digestiva tam stomachi quam epatis notam diminutionis digerendi lesa est ideo caveat multa quantitate ciborum et potuum replere stomachum. Non enim semper quantitas per appetitum exposita tamen accipienda est, et precipue quoniam inveniendo plenitudo inducit cacochi-miam i. mala que accidit cacochimica (?) vel primo conveniens est ei a mensa discedere adhuc cum fame remanente quam saturum fieri iuxta id canonem 3a primi. Et merito a mensa de-scedendum est reliquiis famis adhuc in stomacho remanentibus. Idem etiam de potu dicendum est quoniam conveniens est ei parum potus quam multum assu-mere et erit laudabilis potus mensalis quantitatis talis ut non extendat ventrem stomachalem ipsum replendo et in eo fluctuet et a dextra in sinistram aut ad aliam dextram posterioris

Pervigilando vigiliam faciat. Post hoc eciam dormiendi mensura tangenda est. Licet enim naturalis quod cuius inclinet ipsum ad longam dormitionem quia corpus eius vile et propter eam humidum est tam humiditate substantifica quam infusa. Nichilominus a mensura consueta dormiendi paulisper recedendum est aliquantulum magis dormiendo quam solebat, et in summa melius est ei a consueta dispositione recedere parum magis per augmentum in vigilia quam in dormitione prolixa. Sic enim vigilia consueta longior corpus exiccat ita dormicio consueta prolixior corpus humectat. Sed hoc corpus lapsum est ad augmentum humiditatum infectarum. Igitur curandum est per exiccancia et non per humectancia. In situ autem dormitionis queritur decubitum resupinum ne materie congregentur in renibus eo quod talis decubitus multum est causa generationis lapidum in renibus et augmentationis. Sed in eo non raro generati sunt et iam generantur lapides quare talem decubitum evitare debet. Amplius iterum non est concedendus decubitus super sinistro latere propter nocumentum cordis super afflictum ne materie illuc fluendo congregentur ibidem et est timor non levis. Et quia etiam ut supra deductum est et probatum nocumentum non leve in epate ipsius assignatur, patet racione decumbere non debet super dextro latere. Ex quo autem quod non est leve consilium in materia facere huic egrotanti tanta inordinata valetudine. Non enim vir iste iacere potest super supina ut ex primo discursu probatum est, neque super sinistro latere ut ex 2o ordine deductum est, neque super dextro ut patuit ante probatum est. Quid igitur quiescere debet. Non enim quietius est et longo tempore fieri potest dormitio super faciem et ventrem. Igitur difficile est in tanta conditionum varietate posse convenientem utilitatem elicere. Et sunt sermones qui et consimiles non faciunt medicum anxiari et sudare non loquitur. Dicam itaque ad hanc condicionem primo quod convenientius est huic viro decumbere super parte super cuius decubitu minus invenit nocumentum quam nullo. Dicam 2o quod convenientius est ei decumbere super parte qua minori egritudine leditur et gravatur. Et hoc indubitanter si bene consideratur quod epar eius. Ex quo autem quod ei convenientius est iacere super dextro latere quam super aliis. Et hic me non extendo amplius licet esset locus speculationis ingentis. Amplius iterum vir iste egeat se regere accidentium anime omnem sollicitudinem tristitiam iracundiam et furorem postponendo quia hec extenuant et mutant corpus ab ea que est secundum naturam consistentia. 3o tamen quae spei optime adherere debet omnem sue salutis viam altissimo commendare. Ultimo vero licet de re alia non naturali fiendus esset sermo prolixus eligendo ea que habendo cordi non noceant epati et ea que epati forent utilia non essent renibus nocua et econverso. Nichilominus longitudinem partes dimittam per ea que michi concessione divina meliora visa sunt. Fugiet itaque cibaria omnia viscositatem habentia, et in substantia grossa velut sunt pisces omnes palustres, cibi leguminosa et propter elixa et regulariter alia et castaneas et ... et tubera. Avellane vero et passule et ficus sicce et amigdale dulces et pistacia et uve ... ne sicce et poma acetosa et citrangula et limones conceduntur ei similiter et de oleribus utiles sunt ei omnes magis ad siccitatem et humiditatem mediate quam ad caliditatem propter quod dedrolibamum, saluia, menta, spellium, ruta et similes plantas omnino effugere debet. Bleta vero et spinacia, lactuca, portulaca, endivia domestica et cicorea vel sponsa solis vel eliotropium lene et humide plante valde utiles sunt ei et crude et cocte et omni preparationis modo preter quam per frixionem. Vincta et sua ferula evitare debet licet apud religionem sue professionis Signa cause a mala complexione corporis fri[gida] etc.

corporis successive adquisita ut iam deductum est. Et signa illius sunt ista. Primum est corporis tumescentia proveniens a materia flegmatica et ventositatibus simul mixtis in substantia membrorum infusis ut scribitur 2a primi capitulo 7o. Declaratio enim huius est quod ventositas in causa sua in substantia membrorum est admixta. 2m signum est mollicies totius corporis. 3m est albedo illius que dum provenerit a tenui flate reddente membrorum substantiam mollem et sua albedine talia membra colorante. Quartum signum est levitas existentis ad impressionem tangentis. Sit enim vapor ille prementi facile cedit ita quod et illud aquosum flegma pauca resistentia existens comprimenti. Quintum signum est evanescentia concavitatis in loco depresso. Et hoc quidem accidit quia licet illud flegma comprimenti facile cedat, remoto tamen comprimente non ita facile refluit ad locum a quo expulsum fuit. Et hoc quidem accidit propter ipsius ventositatem que est una de passionibus ipsius flatus. Accidit tamen quod illud etiamque in brevi tempore retrocedit propter actum eo quod movetur motu ventositatis vel vaporis impellentium ipsum cum sint simul in membro cum flegmate permixta ut iam allegatum est. Ex quibus correlarie concluditur quod recessus flatus et accessus eius ad membrum est tardus et velox secundum maiorem et minorem commixtionem flatus cum vaporibus; multo enim existente vapore flatui commixto velox fit flatus repulsio ad membra et econtra. Ex quibus etiam 2o correlarie concluditur quod si equalis fuerit commixtio flatus et vaporis simul refluxus flatus ad membra medius erit inter tarde et velociter recedere. Sextum signum est tumescentia faciei et precipue palpebrarum et [illegible] subsistentium oculis, et hoc quidem provenit propter flegma quod evaporavit ad partes illas sursum raras et detentum fuit in eis viscositate sui. Septimum signum est [illegible] coloris corporis ad albedinem quandam quod quidem contingere potest, aut quia difficile est ymaginari flegma quod flegmaticum est et viscosum a debili calore in vaporem converti, tamen etiam aliud de colera que sui caliditate raritate et subtilitate evaporabilior est a debili calore in aliquam vaporis partem transmutetur quod vapori flatus iam predicto commisceatur sed ex commixtione vaporis aquei et albi cum citrino necessario permutabitur corporis formositas ad colorem mixtum ex albedine et citrinitate etc. 2a vero causa huius coloris assignari potest ymaginando quod aliqua pars flatus a calore extraneo sive putrefactive sive non nobiliter excoquatur ita ut vapor ille nobiliter inflammatus colore corporis ad citrinitatem convertit eo modo quo in pluribus vigilantibus hoc sepe contingit et in hiis qui a calore extraneo ad mortem perducuntur. Et hec quidem causa licet sit subtilior et physica magis valde tamen facile ex principiis medicine deduci potest. Octavum signum est permutatio habitudinis membrorum ad corruptionem forte eorum vel plasmationis. In causa enim vapor et flegma simul [illegible] in totum corpus ita ut fiant sicut massa secundum Avicennam 3a [illegible] capitulo 2o. Nonum signum est impotentia et lassitudo ad exercitia et progressivos motus. Et causa huius potest esse duplex. Prima quidem est multitudo flegmatis per totum corpus augmentati quod sua frigiditate et grossitie infrigidando membra reddit indisposita ad convenientes motus. 2a causa est multa emollitio iuncturarum et aliorum membrorum motivorum et musculorum cordarum et nervorum. Decimum signum est immoratio urinarum et sudorum et causa in primo est transmutatio aquositatum a viis urine ad extrema corporis. Causa vero paucitatis sudorum est indispositio materie ad exitum per vias pororum quod fit aut propter frigiditatem flatus aut propter viscositatem eius, aut propter debilitatem virtutis expellentis, aut quia deficit illi flati conductiva causa sudoris que est vapor colericus aut ipsa materia colerica subtilior que in sudore predicto esse necessaria, tamen sudor est aquositas sanguinis et proprius [illegible]

Est admixtus 2° tam ca° primo vn- 11 decimum signum est multiplicatio ventositatis et rugitus in ventre Et causa huius est non ex multitudine ventositatis et vaporum qui necessario inveniuntur in his corporibus tam ex parte cause efficientis que est debilitas innati caloris quam ex parte cause materialis quo est fleumatis aquam Duodecimum signum est 12 potest a flegmate et a vapore contentis inter superficiem concavam intestinorum poribus et ventositatibus in predictis causa huius esse potest multitudo flegmatis et vaporum in substantia mirach ut inter superficiem concavam siphac et convexam musculorum ventris et aliarum partium ex quibus aggregatur mirach Tredecimum signum est tumor testicu- 13 lorum cum tristitia cordis Et causa primi est quia cum multum flegma descendit per chilim inferiorem ad testiculos et ibi receptum deficit ita quod quandoque non solum essentiam et involuta vasa impleantur illo flegmate et tumescant ymo etiam substantia testiculorum propter quod nascitur magnificatio Et vero tristitia in eis accidit eo quod propter aqua-flegmatis ibi contenta dyaffana est Quatuordecimum signum est difficul- 14 tas consolidationis ulcerum que in talibus corporibus accidunt et hoc totum accidit propter corruptionem complexionis et consionem eius ad flegmatem et multitudi-nem [illegible] flegma Quindecimum signum est 15 pruritus in ossibus in inguinibus et in partibus intermediis coxarum et femorum et inguinum et hoc quod accidit propter elevationem vaporum et materie acutatis ad predictas partes ut voluit hoc subtilis A. pallegatis capitulo [illegible] Et quandoque accidit in commissuris inguinis et in hiis intermediis iam predictis et in commissuris et inguinibus id est in ruge que inveniuntur in ossibus et inguinibus talitas et pruritus propter vaporem ascendente Sedecimum signum est cor- 16 ruptio digestionis sive propter corruptionem intrinsecam diminutionem aut ablationem quorum utrum-que a flegmate fieri potest sive per corruptionem intrinsecam nocumentum in di-gestione tristibus mensam hucusque spe-modo [illegible] que a flegmate vel in toto multiplicata faciliter provenire potest Et ex eodem fundamento valde faciliter saluari potest signum 17m quod est 17 fortitudo appetitus in tali casu evenien-dus sicut etiam in appetitu canino videri potest frequenter enim appetitus canini effectiva causa a sapientibus assignatur flegmatis intensa sed quod in tali casu flegmatem stomachi non est inducem ymo maiorem quam faciat appetitum caninum ut 2e Decimumoctavum 18 signum aggregatum ex multis et est quod in tali casu invenitur diversitas fluxi-bilitatis et stipticitatis ventris atque sompnus et vigiliarum ita ut quandoque venter sit fluxibilis quandoque vero stipticus et quandoque homo sit vigilativus quandoque dormi-tativus Et etiam eidem eveniunt sincopales motus et quandoque non quod illos Et causa quidem illorum accidentium assignari potest ex varietate motus flegmatis quod a virtute diversis temporibus [illegible] tur ab ipsa motum materie flegmatis et ventositatis ab ipsa motas huc inde propellit Cum enim sic multiplicatum esse flegma cum vaporibus in fundo stomachi et in intestinis ventre ab eis mutata accidit fluxus flegmaticus Si autem contingat flegma ea subtile me-brorum esse nobiliter impressa et viscositate et flegmate nobiliter existente cum materia illa retinetur in ventre et possit etiam materia ille a naturali calore deficiente aliquantulum extraneari a calore preternaturali qui consumendo subtiliorem et aquosiorem partem flegmatis erit causa constrictionis ventris Et ex hoc fundamento deduci potest etiam causa vigiliarum Cum enim flegma aliquantulum superalefactum est aut a calore cognito excoquente ipsum non naturali salsedine aliqualem adquirit erit vigiliarum causa Cum autem flegma contingit esse aquam satis et cum aliquale multitudine vaporum et flegmate sua erit causa sompnolentie Et pari ratione omnino deduci potest quare quandoque Caretia adueniat sincopis cum enim veloci impulsione a virtute facta vapor aut fumus vel materia compellitur ad cor propter oppilationem in eo contingente aut propter nocumentum a fetore fugatum et extorsione vaporum in corde contingens accidit in corde nocumentum

Tardus enim est appetitus eius neque

Si igitur in eo ut in pluribus et stomachi nobilem extensionem magis fit diaflagmatis compressio quare necesse tanta in eo aliquando fit anhe-erit per inferiorem ventrem ventositates quod velocius alleviatur expulsion satis pulcre concludere potes quod sit causa precedentis extenuationis eius Reliquum enim in te potest quod per talem expulsionem per inferius educatur expellatur chilus qui dicitur esse materia

Panicii licet enim sit siccum in primo et siccum in 2o. 21o colliget capitulo 19o. tamen quia levium est et extra tum et provocat urinam laudo ipsos. Placet etiam michi risum quod calidum in primo et siccum in 2o. 21o colliget capitulo 126. Et quia est aliquantulum stipticum; et ideo stomachi confortativum 2o de simplici medicina in ipso capitulo collectis fortis autem usus et placet michi. De oleribus autem utendum est omnibus que sunt facilis digestionis calida et sicca et ventositatum corruptiva et prohibitiva generationis earum. De quorum numero est salvia cuius laudes multi modernorum predicant; licet nunquam de ea scripturam invenimus quod narraretur. Avicenna enim 2o canonis et Rasis 21o colliget usque ad 2em michi de ea scripserunt. Dyascorides autem in 3o libro de ea fecit capitulum intitulatum de elelisfago. Serapio vero in aggregatore capitulo 129o enuntiat eam in tercio medias calidas et siccas propter quod videtur eadem esse conveniens maxime stomacho eo quia est naturaliter stiptica notabiliter ut elicitur ex sermonibus Dyas. preallegato capitulo. Feniculi etiam placet eo quia calida est in 3o et sicca in 2o 2us de simplici medicina; et placet michi propter dulcedinem quam facit urinam provocando. Similiter placet michi petrosilenum quod calidum est et siccum in 2o. Et menta sibi similis et ipse quia stomacho est. Et sinapellum etiam est calidum et siccum in 2o et ipse quia capitale est. Et ysopus maxime calidus et siccus in 3o qui stomacho oculis et renibus etc. et s. in 3o etiam placet quia est dissolutivum et atenuativum et quia aptis oppilationes capitis et quod doloribus sensus a flate et ventositate 2o canonis in ipso capitulo. Rosmarinum vero basilicon non laudo nisi in pauca quantitate et maxime quia nocet visui 3a 3y capitulo de nocentibus visui; propter quod etiam anetum et porrum evitari. De radicibus autem uti potest pastinacis domesticis et silvestribus et napibus in igne coctis et in pingui brodio cum aromatibus predictis. Carote etiam usus placet michi. Sparagi et rappes et lupulorum superiores partes et sibi similes placent michi. Fructus vero omnes et ipse f. et h. dimittantur; propter quod melonum cerasorum usus et ipse cum stiptice ventris non placet michi. Citria vero nunquam mala sunt ei et ipsa cum ma... sione sua. Avellane vero recentes non multum sunt utiles sed convenientiores sunt sicce ex eis. Amigdalarum vero comestio est utilis in omni modo preparationis quia abstergitivas et aperitivas et sunt boni nutrimenti. Castanee similiter quia ventose sunt et grossi nutrimenti et generis fri. et s. dimittantur. Crisolla etiam dimitti sed eo quia fri. et h. sunt in 2o et capitis gravat et superfluitatibus implet. Pinearum vero usus non michi placet. ... ponatur in passis tempate ad aliquantulum calorem declinantes ... tamen accipiatur confecte cum zuccaro ut infuse per diem in aqua calida convenienter possunt. vtiles sunt eo quod aperiunt meatus nutrimenti expurgant canales epatis et splenis. Ysaac de simplici medicina suo capitulo Dactili bene dulces calidi sunt in primo sed in passibus discordant auctores de eis. Serapio namque gradua[ui]t eos vt et Galienus .7. vero de palma dicit quod est scriptura eius sermo. Ego autem in libro meo non inuenio calidam de eis. Auicenna uero 2° de simplici medicina scribit quod habundanter comedere ventrem stringit putredinem in ore stomachi et dolorem in capite facit et opilationem in splene et epate ideo dimittatur. Inmature sicce sunt et humide quod de eis sermo et in preseruanda sanitate et remouenda egritudine non inuenit eas vtiles primo difficiles digestionis ideo dimittantur. Clara quia sicce sunt et humide nocent stomacho et faciliter in eo corrumpuntur, ideo non sunt laudabilia. Granata dulcia calida sunt sicca et humida in primo, tamen quia stomacho conueniunt aliquando accipi possunt. Citria vero quia sicci et frigidi sunt in 2° non placent in eius cena calide- me possunt. De conditis placent michi fungi conditi et napi et rape condite et citonia post cibum cum acetosis condita, et amigdale physistici et auellane condite cum zucaro et anisi et cinamomum et zinzibere et semen citrulis et zinzibere condito similiter omnia hec cum zucaro vel melle et acetosis consuete vtilia sunt. Et confectio de maceis et confectio de nuce muscata et de garifilis et reliqua talia vtilia sunt ei. De partibus autem alium parum est discernendum. Eo quod alimentum ex eis non generandum semper dulcificatur, dimittatur igitur omni alium partes quorum nutrimentum est grossum viscosum et difficilis digestionis ut sunt pulmo stomachus et renes et quorum etiam est nauseatiuum et ventosum ut pingues et medulle. Aliud autem antiora ad digestionem sunt faciliora, posteriora vero econtra. De melioribus autem alium partibus sunt carnes rubee musculose pauce pinguedinis non multum vicine partibus generationis et locis expulsionum. Talis namque caro melius omnibus aliis exhibet nutrimentum et ipse cum fuerit ex aliis et coxis accepta, conuenientior est mane si fuerit elixa.

In frixa vero assata, frixa vero non placent propter fastidium et nauseam et difficultatem digestionis quam facit et grauitatem capitis. Igitur melior preparatio carnium est, Sed in veru assatis vel in craticula coquitur. Pastelli vero in abariis multa non placent. Vina enim salsa acuta vaporosa sunt et os stomachi ledencia et malum nutrimentum exhibencia ut 3a 3e passus capitis colligendum. Et hec in summa de cibis dicta sufficiant. De potu autem licet (?) interim permittendo quod conuenit ei potus vini albi vel subrubei clari vel duas (?) acetico et boni saporis ad suffusitatem melius magis quam ad aquositatem. Et in summa omne vinum quanto aquosius et grossius recipitur tanto ei deterius est, propter quod non laudo aque vsum. Si autem contingerit esse de necessitatis causa oportet ipsum vti aqua eligatur clara et bene munda a fonte vel a puteo vel a fluuio accepta a corruptis plateis et limositatibus alienata que nullo odore extraneo vel sapore sit percepta, leuius egressit et conueniens frigidus in quolibet anni tempore frigida autem potui commixta est simpliciter talis. In hyeme autem simplex coqui potest, et ipse cum fuerit lutosa vel arenosa. Et portio eius que vino commisceri debet limitetur penes fumositatem vini et discretionem viri moderate prudentie tecti et bene edocti. Si autem necessitatis causa ad dolorem incurrerat vel renum et propter multam stomachi frigiditatem vti vellet alio potu composito placet michi et vel de vtile esse ei ydromel huius descriptionis Recipe aque celeste vel .8. 27 mell electi crudi et mundi .8. 1. florum cardamoni (?) ana .3. 1. macis .3. 1 s. gariofilorum ana .3. 1. cinamomi electi .3. ij. coquantur omnia simul lento igne usque ad consumptionem partibus duabus remanentibus et coletur bis per pannum lineum bene densum, et conseruetur. 2a p i capitulo primo. Secundum in aut nunc 2o principaliter quod dispositio huius

Quoniam domine a me non creditur esse precise egritudo dominorum quam afflicta in precedentibus sed credo ego esse huius dispositionis complicationem ex duabus egritudinibus quarum una ex predictis partibus nasi ipsa altera vero est iterum per certum cerebro appropriata Et hanc pono esse mala gonem calidam et siccam in cerebro prouenientem ex sanguine cum flegmate et colera mix-te commixte corrumpitur Si enim hec viru-lencia ipsius consequitur putrem egritudinem que est solo cum tibi vel pustula tunc opporteret quod semper ipsa emanaret a naso aut quasi continue continue exiret eo quod ipsa generatur in ulceribus illius partis sed a quocumque ulcere semper resudat humiditas ut colligitur eo de in questione sua et 2a parte de speciebus solemnis cum tibi et ea etiam et 30 capitulo de ulceribus ¶ Amplius si hec virulencia sola generatur in naso ergo vel ex materia laudabili que fundatur ad illa loca vel ex materia illaudabili sed non potest poni primum eo quia in cerebro ponitur nobilis caliditas et siccitas ergo materia ab ipso fusa non erit laudabilis ¶ Nec potest poni secundum quia tunc haberetur propositum si hec materia ex qua hec virulencia generatur est illau-dabilis cum effunditur et est a cerebro effusa ergo ibi fuit contenta ergo oportet in isto cerebro assignari speciem male complexionis Et ipsa quidem non dependet a distempera aliorum membrorum colligatorum cerebro ergo erit eidem appropriata quod erat de-ducendum Et si diceretur quod hec caliditas et siccitas cerebri non est lapsus preter naturam immo est lapsus naturalis cerebro quoniam in cerebro assignatur debilitas digestiue et expulsiue eius igitur non vere quod ipsa consequitur naturalem lapsum eius ¶ Amplius hec caliditas et siccitas cerebri conceditur esse inceptiua eius generationis acuitatis in membris sed hec non in cerebro sunt preter naturam ergo ea generationis causa erit preter naturam ¶ Am-plius hee materie sunt generate a mala complexione ipsius cerebri et non vere ipsas posse capere fetorem quem habent in partibus nasi ipse ergo ipsum receperunt aliunde sed non nisi in cerebro ubi generate in mala complexione calida et sicca prout debet esse in mala complexione que inuenitur in ulcere pri-nasi non est adeo intensa ut illas materias tam cito putrefacere possit et tan-ta putredine ut ad ipsam consequatur fetor nobilis ab astantibus perceptibilis licet non semper ab eis tante perciperetur Et confirmatur quia dato quod hec mala complexio appropriata naso esset illius fetoris causa tunc opporteret illum fetorem semper esse parem eo quod illa causa est continue presens et materia est disposita cum applicatione cause efficacis ad ipsam et ceteris conuenientia ad hoc Et si concederetur totum ad quod ratio deducit scilicet quod semper representaretur ille fetor ergo etiam in naso necesse assignari ulcera non solum superficialia sed profundiora quia tenet eo quia in superficiali ulcere non possit generari materia tanto fetori associata Solet enim fetor tantus consequi concreationem morborum quia preter prohibita corruptionis proueniens a magnis apostematibus que non possunt in superficiali ulcere sufficienter assignari Et si rursus haberetur dispositio paciente quod in eius cerebro complexionis pacientis caliditas intensa Secundo quod materia per colatorium exiens cum amaritudine participabit et salsedine 3o quod circa partes capitis et temporum pacientes pulsatio secundum intensum tamen et remissio variata 4o quod partes capitis tactu calide percipientur 5o quod in vigiliis quandoque occupabitur 6o quod a certis dormicionibus quandoque vexabitur Et alia plura signa istis consimilia ponere potuissem si que supradicta essent a noticia diminutionis aut corruptionis vel ablationis in operationibus inter-nis et exterioribus sensuum contingentes similiter a casibus supradicta signa ponere potuissem que aliis relinquenda committo Reducere ex omnibus ipsis in unum redactis finaliter intencio mea colligere in hac conclusione Dominus dispositio huius nobilis domini est complicata ex duabus egritudinibus egritudine per essenciam in naso existencium et male complexionis calide ipsius cerebri per essenciam que tamen ad dispositionem nasi per colliga-ciam denominari potest Et tu elige ut libet quem appellari videbis quod erit impositionis eius dispositionem nasi similiter rectificacione cerebri quod est eorum prima conseruatiua causa Hec de primo principali supradictis premisso ita sufficiant

Item declaratione xi principali superius ante missi ubi vere dixi quod mulis causa ante huius dispositionis verisimilius continetur in cerebro quoniam inter convexam superficiem eius et concavam cranei. Dicimus in primo quod ex rationibus in oppositum adductis non convincatur quoniam materia ante predicta cerebri contineatur inter cerebrum particulas et craneum, unde neque cerebri negatur illud licet concedatur verisimilius quod materia contineatur in cerebro quoniam inter ipsum et cranium ubi paulisper. Dicimus quod in hoc ergo rationabilius esse existimem. Ad primo quando si materia illa contineretur in cerebro necesse est quod ipsa contineatur in ventriculis vel poris eius vel in anfractuositatibus eius aut in venis aut arteriis ipsius aut in poris. Sed parum nervorum ab eo orientium a sufficienti divisione emanante omnes illas partes ex quibus cerebrum reintegratur. Sed si autem hec materia non contineatur in ventriculis cerebri tale erat eo quod ea sit multa opilando illos ventriculos a corpore partes nervis impediret operationes interiorum sensuum quoniam perficiuntur in illis ventriculis ut sensus communis aut fantasie quantum ad ventriculum primum ymaginative aut cogitative potentie quantum ad secundum, et memorative quantum ad tertium. Sed non erat ad nocumentum dimi-nutionis ablationis aut corruptionis in operationibus illorum sensuum igitur non videtur quod materia in illis ventriculis contineatur.
Probatur antecedens quod materia illa multiplicata sui no-cumentum efficeret ibi aut quando a[?] opilando ventriculos secundum partem et ita partiale nocumentum efficeret [?] et consequentia probatur quoniam sicut ex absencia materie a ventriculis absoluitur ipsi a nocumento ita ex presentia materie in illis accidet nocumentum. Secundo iterum si hec materia esset in qualibet suis discreta cuius discrasia resultat ex mixtione colerice et flegmatis materie ergo saltem noceret nocumento permutationis male complexionis igitur apparent signa nocumenti in operationibus predictorum sensuum saltem corruptionis aut diminutionis secundum speciem alterationis.
Tertio si hec materia mixta esset temperata in quantitate et qualitate quod moveret expulsivam cerebri ad sui expulsionem. Quarto ad idem quoniam in cerebro assignetur debilitas ergo proveniens ab hac materia vel ab altera causa. Si primum habetur intentum scilicet quod si materia est discreta ergo non recipit altera-tionem in partibus nasi quod erat deducendum. Si dicatur secundum scilicet quod in cerebro inventa debilitas ab aliena causa proveniens et non a discrasia huius materie contra quod in cerebro est debilitas que est causa congestionis huius materie in eo ergo hec materia est superfluitas ex eo probatur non fortificatur cerebrum unde natura de-bilitatur. Cum ergo debile sit cerebrum in digestiva ergo materia generabitur debilis non bene digesta igitur necessario in qualibet suis erit distemperata quod erat inten-dendum. Ex quibus correlarie concluditur quod si hec materia superflua congregaretur paula-tim in ventriculis cerebri potest hanc [?] ad grandia disponere pericula et nocumenta [?]aribus cerebri aut aliis rationibus videtur esse. Dicimus quod materia huius consuetudinis non continetur in poris cerebri sed quod in megrania evadet hoc damnum a nocumentis opilationis substantie medullaris cerebri in hac vel in alia parte existens.
Et item 3o si locaretur hec materia inter cerebri anfractuositates quas vocant partes intermedias inter partes me-dulle cadentes necessario oportet assigna-ri opilationes concavitatum ad quas sequerentur nocumenta predicta. Et item si locaretur hec materia in venis et arteriis disseminatis per substantiam cerebri non potest bene intendi quoniam ibi fa-ceret opilationes associatas sibi prohibitam transpirationem ad quam sequeretur lapsus operationum in cerebro, probatur consequentia quoniam materia illa non habet esse viscosa et vie sunt anguste igitur opilabit.
Ultimo principaliter quod materia si locaretur in nervis orientibus a cerebro tunc ipsa poneretur in originibus eorum vel in polo vel in extremis partibus ipsorum [?]antibus ad organa sensuum interiorum vel exteriorum. Cum ergo materia ibidem posita opilaret eos oporteret necessario assignari nocumentum actionis de productione in operationibus amborum sensuum cuius oppositum autem quod videtur ex predictis colligi esse quod hec materia potius secundum maiorem sui partem elongatur a substantia cerebri

Rum ponatur in ea Videtur igitur verisilius esse quod ponatur inter cerebrum

Questio huius consilii domine est pleuresis quod apparet ex signis inchoationis recitatis et scriptis scilicet dolor existit in pectore sub costis punctivus et febricitat febre continua cum tussi et gravitate anhelitus Et etiam apparet hoc verum esse ex illis que vere in facta et opere peritissimus operatus est circa ea scilicet a clistere ventris lenitivo et sepius et insuper fomentationes et linimenta pectori applicata sunt ad curam solutionis dispositionis Et etiam quidem ad tantum per ducta est dispositio quod cum omnibus pre dictorum applicatis tamen adhuc convenientiam dolor pectoris neque sedatus neque alle viatus existit ut de quo curandum Et quod magis infestat est quod dolor de parte una pectoris mutiplicatus est ad aliam Unde propter hoc subtiliter conte plandum ut inveniri posset magis curationis convenientes et igitur primitus quod hec pleuresis aut est permutata de una parte pectoris ad aliam sicut sepe contingit in casibus permutationis et impletionis Licet enim pleuresis materia transmutari potest ad caput et ad pulmonem ut potest colligi ex 2o capitulo de casibus pleuresis tunc non existit quomodo materia possit permutari de dextra ad sinistram partem pectoris et econverso Et huius permutationis contingit signum per alleviationem doloris in parte in qua prius infestabat magis et per recepcionem caloris etiam nisi in una parte et quod per decubitum super patiente particula magis gravatur eger in anhelitu et in tussiendo quam plus distenditur 2a in hac dispositione contemplandum Si hec pleuresis mutata vel explicata fiat vel facta sit, quod quidem contingere potest quia materia una plus mota fuit quam vero infestabat ergo impulsa ad alterum laterem fecit unam pleuresim et contingens est alteram partem mo non fuisse mota tempore quo prima materia movebatur propterea quia non erat ita mobilis ex parte qualitatis et substantie nec ita acuta et virtutis mole statiua Cum ergo virtus erat potens ad resistendum ei non poterat sed 2a materia movendum tempore illo quo movebatur et mota fuit materia prima principa liter ergo prima pleuresis subsecuta est 2a pleuresis, aut quia virtus debilitata non poterat predicta in sensatione sua et motione videri potest stuporem istum qui est nocumentum diminutionis in sensu ta ctus accidere propter opilationem in predictis membris seu nervis evenientem. Neque stupor iste in viro isto provenire potest ab opilatione attenuatoria. Non enim in eo precesserunt cause necessarie ut actiua con stipativa humiditatis sicut ante que sunt opilationis attenuatorie cause. Neque enim etiam in eo videtur esse apta aliquod magnum vel durum quod faciat coar tationes in eo. Sunt ergo opilationes predicte provenientes a materia flegmatica mul animali ut predictum est. Et ex fun damentis predictis maxime solvi potest questio hec. Quare est quod aliqui nocumentum habent magis in sensu quam in predictis fundamentis apparet solucio ad problema aliud propter quid est hoc quod aliqui appetunt hoc nocumentum et quique non. Nam secundum diversitatem eorum causa removetur causa predicta.

Et ex istis concludi potest 3o. Quare

Unde ipsa mollificata fiunt causa

Quarto ex predictis concludi potest quare membra illa stupida a sen non debet esse fecundus. Et quia semen eius indigestum est et in qualitatibus

Capitulum 10 · De mala complexione · renum et fixione lapidis in spondilibus renum et aliqualiter in extremitate pudibundi et mictu arenularum

Nuper obtulit mihi casus dispositionem · que quamvis dato quod nunc non sit valde vehementer tamen in posterum satis difficilia nocumenta minatur. Item nobilis vir ser Franciscus de Rozdis molestatiue dolore pacitur et ipse in loco spondi-lium renum · cum quo quidem dolore perse-ueraret mictu urinarum continentium tenuium sub et mucosarum filiarum multis arenulis minutis et grossis indesinenter commixtos Et licet per continuam curacionem contrarium superfluitatum corporis alleviet tamen dispo-sita minatur eidem custum lapidis et confirmacionem eius in renibus suis et fortassis iam lapis ille genitus est licet ex signis non appareat ipsum esse magnificatum · Urina enim urina a-renosa significat lapidem qui consoli-datur aut qui consolidando procedit aut qui resolvitur · 2a primi · summa ultima capitulo vi. Si ergo iam lapis consolidatus est aut est in via aut consolidetur iam apparet difficultas deposicionis · Si autem lapis ille resolvitur vel comminuitur non tamen deficiat quin magna sit habenda suspicio. Et quia in invenitur in viro isto iiij^or cause quarum alique sunt necessario concurrentes aptitudine confirmacionis lapidis in renibus eius · alie vero sunt cooperates ipsum ad hoc. Item vir iste licet a generacione sanguineus existat ut facile aspicienti ipsum apparere potest tamen habet renes complexione ad medium gradus notabiliter calidos. Item invenitur in eo multitudo flatuum in viis verihemidant · quod apparet ex torcionibus et peralcisiculis iam super tactus ergo in ipso inveniuntur utraque dispoconfirmacionis et generacionis novi lapidis

Et primo quidem ex parte agentis quod est calor excoquens · 2a vero ex parte materie que viscositate sua que a calore excocta convertitur in arenas et deinde in lapidem · et etiam ea materia arenulas iam inventas in renibus sua viscositate conglutinandi admicem est causa generacionis la-pidis ut predictum est · 3a vero causa est dispositio et est viarum strictura in eo quod apparet ex naturali complexione et habitudine ipsius · 4a causa iterum est dispositio et est pinguedo re-spectu corporis notabiliter aucta · sed cir-cum plurimum advenit lapis re-num est pinguioris et strictas vias an-gustas naturaliter vel accidentaliter. Ergo in viro isto inveniuntur iiij^or cause ad generacionem lapidis concurrentes scilicet intensa renum caliditas · multitudo materiarum flatuum que satis grosse sunt viarum angustia · et pinguedo notabilis et etiam apparet ex unctuositate quadam per sepe in superficie urine eius emissa. Amplius et hoc satis leviter deduci potest ex fixione doloris in locis renum · licet enim dolor eiusdem permanens possit esse accidens ad presenciam lapidis arenarum et multitudine flatuum in eis existencium ipse tamen dolor non est levis causa generacionis novi lapidis aut confir-macionis inventi in eis sed sit quia dolor debilitando partem est causa attractionis materiarum ad renes · eo quod omnis dolor fortis aut perseverans attrahit renum sive sit 3o tegni · sed sit quod dolor debilitando virtute expulsisua materias confirmari facit in renibus Ex quo apparet quod licet dolor sit accidens aliorum dispositionis · ipse tamen potest esse causa augmentacionis eiusdem · aut confirmacionis. Et autem in eo inveniebatur aptitudo generacionis lapidis in renibus omnia media iam adducta demonstrant · et etiam aliqualis ardor quem patitur in capite membri genitalis Cum enim non inveniatur mea cognicione aliquid concludens nocumenta vesice vel epatis et iam sit ardor predictus aliud Appetitus apparet hic effectum deducere in tam ipsius productam / sed non est necesse causam in aliquo principali membrorum s. epate vel poris renalibus et vesica neque in canali virge / ideo necesse provenit a nostro renum tertia a sufficienti diminutione membrorum que sunt cause ardoris urine ut collectum est 18a 3e tr. et capitulo 3o. Et confirmatur hoc quia licet arenosa ypostasis proveniens posset ex adustione materie in urinis ut 2a primi summa ultima capitulo 6o / et 3a et tractatu 3o capitulo de lepra. In hoc tamen viro non apparent cause generationis arenarum in renibus eius ex parte eorum caliditatis adherent et materie generationis earum in urinis. Ergo omnino apparet necessario concedere hinc are-nam provenientem ab arenis expulsis a renibus que sua asperitate dolorem illum faciunt in extremitate pe-dibundi quod erat demonstrandum seu deducendum. Et ex omnibus istis colligendo facile apparet que et qualis sit dispositio huius viri. Est enim mala qualitas et siccitas renum cum quod propter debilitatem generantur faciliter materie in renibus aut saltem alliciunt perpellitur ad eos cum multitudine arenarum et fixione doloris in spondilibus renum et aliquando in extremitate ge-nitalis membri. Ex qua dispositione certe concluditur quod in ipso iam genitus est lapis / aut est in via gene-rationis vel confirmationis et etiam quod dispositus est ad excoriationem ve-sice que a multitudine et magnitudine arenarum et lapidis facile subsequi potest. Ex quibus tandem ultimo concluditur quod in eo est magna necessi-tas festinationis ad curationem. Et propter hoc oportet rectificare regimen eius ex parte sex rerum non naturalium administratione / deinde applicare regimen per medicinalia. Pro expeditione vero mensurationis sex rerum non naturalium hic ordo observetur. Sit habitatio eius in civitate vel camera generaliter respiciens orientalem / immo vero magis sed parvus aquilonarem / etiam quam occi-dentalem. Locus eius sit a terra no-biliter elevatus et ab aquis elongatus ad aliqualem siccitatem et nullo modo ad humiditatem inclinatus. Et in diebus caloris sit magis ad frigiditatem quam ad caliditatem declinans. In diebus vero frigoris ad caliditatem leviter sit inclinatus. De annexis aeri caveat hic vestes nobiliter stringentes super spinam et lumbare eius similiter cau-tet omnem modum calefaciendi spinam et propter hoc in frequenti coytu qui est res inter alias nocibilior magis / quare utatur habemus temperate in ipso ita ut non expendat materiam amplius quam bis in septimana. Fugiet omnes laboriosos motus et propter hoc equitandi equos fortes et incommodi incessus et propter hoc post cibum. et frequenter ascensum montium et scalarum. Temperata vero exer-citia peditandi aut gradarium equum equitandi omnino sibi conveniens est.

Et in summa aliquantulum exercitari modo recto melius est ei quam otiosam vitam ducere. De accidentibus anime caveat illa que velocem et fortem motum in hu-moribus et spiritibus efficere possunt / anime aut accidentia tristitiam et suffocationem spiritus inducentia cavenda sunt / neque etiam tam continuam meditationem circa suam dispositionem tristatur agere debet adeo quod accidentia anime motum in membris producere efficere possunt. Circa hec est ei in ipsa ciborum diminuta se regere magis quam augendo ciborum quantitatem enim ciborum assumptis repletionem istam augmentaret. Talis enim egritudo ex repletione tractus et principaliter renum facta est / sed omnes egritudines de repletione sanat eius que fit per abstinentiam ut apparet 2a textu et quarto 22a. Et plenitudine quibus egritudines evacuatio sanat. Ergo in cibationibus eius tanta sit ut assumpto cibo nequaquam gravetur stomachus ipsius ita ut neque fastidium abhominationem nau-seam vel subdistinctionem incurrat et quanto magis non perducat ad vomitum.

Diligens contemplator intelligere poterit quales sint lapsus in homine provenientes demitandi ex speciebus lesionum que adveniunt in operationibus sensuum exteriorum et interiorum. Et ideo iterum ex hoc fundamento deducatur modus cognoscendi nocumentum in declarata capitis parte provenientis. Cum enim in operationibus sensus visus provenit nocumentum diminutionis significatur lapsus anterioris partis cerebri a frigiditate et humiditate et spirituum visibilium grossitudine. Cura huius quidem nocumenti curatio pendet ex pluribus instructis. Nocumenta oculorum

De nocumento pectoris. Ad vero nocumenta que pectori huius venerandi patris contingunt est quia materie multe a capite ipsius effunduntur et per se etiam effluunt per arterias et venas interiores et profundiores. Adiungitur etiam non raro cadit a capite materia per foramen colatorij quod est in concavo palati. Et hec quidem materia recepta a spatiositate pectoris tensionem et gravitatem facit in mediastino panniculo pectoris qui in medio thoracis usque ad posteriorem partem spondilium extensus dividit et continue perquirit in partibus illis. Et si contingat materiam illam diffundi in diafragma non evadit a nocumento anhelitus et tussis humida, et precipue cum fluit materia flegmatica. Si autem fluit materia colerica non evadit a siti inflammatione et pungitivo dolore in pectore precipue et erit ut in pluribus tussis sicca. Eo quod materia sui subtilitate membris pectoris infixa non facilit per sputum educi potest nisi per nimia sui multitudine virtutem ad expulsionem vehementer incitaret sicut patet in plerisque in quibus principio materia evacuatur cum omnino indigesta. Ad dolorem spatularum

Prius incipiendum est a sedatione eius aliqualiter quoniam ex eventibus dolentibus iuxta illud Ra. primi cap° primo Cuique ad dictas particulas volumus medicari in quas dolor extiterit prius dolorem seda. Est autem instrumentum bonum ad sedandum dolorem ut membrum fomentetur cum spongia infusa in aqua decoctionis horum ℞ camomille an. ʒ. iiij. se. aneti ʒ. ij. Regimen stomachi humidantis humiditatibus. Pro intentione vero ciuis medici cum actibus opportet subtiliter contemplari Eo quod ipsum complicatum comparatione ad medium generis neque enim hic disputandum est. Cum sto(machus) eius vero medium generis declaro Eo quod bonitas coloris faciei et totius corporis habitudinis dispositio mediocritate consistendens melioris a genere plasmatis gradus venarum magnitudo et extensio et sanguinis multitudo

Significat ipsum non esse magis esse lapsum ad caliditatem. quoniam ad ipsum sequitur maceratio sanguinis paucitatis per viam exiccationis a calore solo proveniens quoniam facit calor caliditas igitur digestionis stomachi molliciem ad tactum percepta multitudo salivalis humiditatis. ventositates in stomacho accumulate. superfluitates prime digestionis mollicies et reliqua signa contraria istis que propter brevitatem obmittendo significant augmentum humiditatis in ipso magis quod ex signis istius deduci possit in ipso lapsus ad calorem. Nam iterum speculatio ista impedit medicum a recta curatione Eo quod in contrariis operantis corruptionis maxime est habenda cautela. et non in perfectis. Videlicet cum stomachi operacio perfecta et melioratur a calitate eius predicta magis quam impediri. et tamen utrique contrariis conveniencius iniectis provideri possit.

Premittendum primo quod cum lapsus humanis ad humiditatem existat ex necessario aut quod materia in stomacho contenta sit in tunicis eius imbibita aut superficiei ipsius concave adherens vel investata aut in eius concavitate infusa et natans. neque aliter ymaginari potest materia in stomacho se habere ut colligitur localiter. 13a

Capitulum 109 de elefantia

An est dubitandum quin egritudo huius viri sit ele-phantia in tertia parte totius magis pedis tumorem et extre-sentiam sine manifesta apparitione venarum et arteriarum et tensionem ipsarum In hoc enim differt ele-phantia dispositione a varicosa litate enim in elephantiaca egritu-dine materia multa patet ambe contineri in venis et arteriis In varicibus vero materia ipse in venis et arteriis continentur ambe. Patet convicta ca elefantie in poris membrorum multiplicata et congregata membra magnificat et extendit. Et ex hoc concluditur quod dispositio varicosa valde facile associat sibi elephantiam. neque etiam hic per elephantiam intelligo speciem unam lepre que fit a sanguine infecto a melancolia naturali adusta per quam in lepre egritudine capti magnificantur et corrumpuntur in membris et eorum figuris ut superius ostendit. Sed hic intelligo per elefantiam membrorum excrescentiam preter naturam provenientem a sanguine multo quantitate multum vel a multitudine quasi flatus cum sanguine commixti aut a nimia quantitate multa humoris in venis et arteriis multiplicati qui sunt means a quibus infunduntur in poris membrorum in extensionem et magni-tudinem preternaturalem efficaciter idem quod membra elongantur a quantitate mediocri. et evenit in eis magni-tudo et extensio omnium individuorum huiusmodi speciei transcendens magni-tudinem omnium brutorum animalium longitudinem excedit. Ex quorum fundamento deducere potest quod iiii or precise ex sententia illustrium virorum assignari possunt species elephantie Et primum quidem est ex sanguine naturali multiplicato in quantitate tum in aliquo corpore qui consuetus fuit evacuari sanguinis per nares per emoroides permittatur per menstrua per flebotomias et alia similia. et retinentur tales evacuationes et generatur assumptio ciborum et potuum sanguinem multiplicantium et etiam laudabilium et vini dulcis rubri puri et turce multo conditarum et sese multi vi Et si contingat hominem exercitari multum et vehementi exercitio pedibus tunc sanguis ille multiplicatus fluxi-bilitate sua ad superiora dilapsus venas et arterias implet aquarum orificiis in poris effusus in mem-bris generat elephantiam. Et sunt signa eius velocitas auctus ipsius et magnificationis suarum superiorum 2m est caliditas magna in parte patiente. 3m est gravitas notabilis minor tamen quam in aliis, 4m est rubor manifestus ad purpureum declinans, 5m est tensio notabilis Sextum est duricies resistens impressioni minus tamen quam in melancolica et magis quam in flegmatica, 7m est quedam pustularum aparitio est quod tria membra videntur in eo lapsa propter quorum distemperiem frequenter in eo accidunt egritudines membrorum est stomachus eius qui propter raritatem texture sue tunice valde diminute digerit qui etiam non raro incurrit corruptionem digestionis propter effusionem colere rubee rubus convertitur ad corruptionem Precedentibus est pectus eius ang-ad quam sequitur debilitas et propterea quod faciliter recipit altracionem ab epate effundente sursum ea cum multitudine valde facile aptus est incurrere

Leo thenensis augustensis Respondenti in quietem speculandi in stabilibus medicine materia et non minus difficilia Vir enim quidam nobilis dilectione religionis captus et sacrosancte fidei cultu zelantissime anhelans madidit in nota corporis in sensibus interioribus Est enim in eo nocumentum in operationibus fantasie Neque enim per eam apprehendit veram vel obiectorum species nisi sub modo corruptionis quas enim sibi afferuntur ab astantibus gratia placandi ipsum et quietandi

In operationibus interiorum sensuum et ex-teriorum sub forma contrarietatis recepit aut doli aut fraudis. quod non est aliud nisi fantasie operationes esse corruptas. et sic corrupte recipiuntur in eo species obiectorum ita corrupte deferuntur ab ultima parte anterioris ventriculi cerebri in qua locatur fantasia ad primam partem 2i ventriculi cerebri in qua locatur yma-ginatiua potentia species ergo tales corrupte et delate et recepte in organum ymaginatiue immutant ipsum qualis est eis in potentia et ipse quia ita debitum est. organum aliud a causis infra videndis. Et si species ille possunt immutare organum tunc ne-cesse est concedere quod immutatur instrumenta que sunt spiritus aeres Cum ergo taliter se habeant potentie ad operationes educendas qualiter se habent orga-na et instrumenta ipsarum potentiarum et illa duo iam corrupta sunt ut dictum est Igitur necesse est ipsius ymaginatiue potentie ymaginationes producere corruptas Cum igitur alterius potentie scilicet cogitatiue non pro-ducantur operationes ab anima nisi mediante organo suo quod est 2a pars ventriculi medii et mediantibus instrumentis suis. que sunt spiritus aeres in quibus iam facta est alteratio. seu permutatio vel corruptio necesse est cogitatiue potentie operationes secundum formas corruptas producere Et hec omnia possunt colligi in exemplis a galieno datis Quidam dam enim erat qui omnes ipsum vi-sitantes corrupte reprehendebat et inimicos ei esse pronunciabat et debebat expelli. operatio enim fantasie in eo corrupta erat et corrupte apprehendens. operatio tamen cogitatiue integra erat. quia precipiebat expellendos esse eos ut inimicos

Alter autem fuit custodiens vasa domini sui vitrea et stans ad fenestram vocabat transeuntes an vellent illa vasa habere et proiciebat ea ad terram et fragebantur Corrupta enim erat in eo operatio ymaginatiue potentie. quia non ymaginabatur illa vasa vitrea esse fragilia Alter autem discelus a dogmate patris fugiebat ipse pater autem insequebatur ipsum. ipse autem retrocedens verbabat patrem pater autem acriter reprehendebat eum et ipse evoluens se ad patrem veniam petiit ab eo. operatio enim fan-tasie et ymaginatiue corrupte erat. quia non comprehendebat ipsum esse patrem sed postmodum a patre monitus cognovit er-rorem suum Unde apparet quod integra erat operatio cogitatiue potentie Et multa exempla istis similia adduci potuissent Simile accidit huic viro in quo lesa est operatio fantasie et ymaginatiue potentie. ymaginatur enim demones assistere ei circumtimore illo gestibus verba terrorum profert et multa sedule astantibus et in sermo corruptos sermones frequentissime profert. et timoris magis similitudines exprimit. et quamquam corrupte eligat standum et eundum esse ad loca a quibus fugiendum est et converso Unde ex hiis concluditur quod dispositio huius viri est valde verenda Si enim huic viro succederet tentie. sed dimittam tunc forsitan ingrederetur eum stoliditas et amen-

Eo quia a superiori parte [vene] capitis ascendentis rammificantur vene guidegi que emergunt . pan[n]iculos cerebri interiores et exteriores. Secunda racio est quia cum hec quod hec membra sunt vetiora et propinquiora ad caput vene tamen predicte et arterie iterum laciores et apciores erunt. Et tercia racio evidencior est. eo quia cum stomachus sit substancia aliquo modo nervosus communicat in natura cum substancia panniculorum cerebri. Immo in se maiorem sensacionem habet communicatam ad os suum quam habeant panniculi ipsius cerebri. Et quarta racio est quod aliis paribus quod sicut leve fere notum illatum ori stomachi lesionem potest caput vel panniculos cerebri magis quam nocumentum exiens in epate renibus in tite splene vel de potenciis. Ultima racio et adhuc evidencior est propter colligacionem stoma[chi] ad ipsum caput. et maxime ad panniculos cerebri et maiorem quam aliorum membrorum inferiorum ad ipsum cerebrum. Eo quia os stomachi colligatur panniculis cerebri . et cerebro per nervum reversivum involventem os stomachi cum quatuor rammificatum a VI pari nervorum a medulla cerebri descendencium ut patet per Alpharabium. Doctrina 3a summa 2a capitulo 2o / Per has itaque raciones aut ipsarum plures aparet quod credibile est per colligacionem stomachi et mirach ad ipsum cerebrum nocumentum in predictis existens facile posse communicari anteriori parti capitis magis quam posteriori

Et si arguetur contra hoc quod saltem non videtur posse dolorem in anteriori parte capitis provenire saltem per nocumentum mirach. Cum mirach ipsum non habeat tantam colligacionem ad cerebrum et panniculos quam stomachus habuit motivus dicendum est. quod licet ipsum mirach non habeat ad cerebrum colligacionem tantam quantam habeat stomachus ad ipsum. neque ita immediatam tamen quia nocumentum ipsius mirach facile communicatur mirach et exinde facile pervenit ad cerebrum. Secundum vero principale declarandum in materia hac est. Utrum dolor iste per podagram est. videtur enim quod debet esse masiuus. eo quia in cerebro invenitur materia que actualiter frigida et humida a multitudine flatuum contracta quod fixa est in cerebro igitur continue ab ea debet provenire dolor. Item materia commixta ex flate et colera semper continue ibidem ut suppositum est et panniculi sunt membra sensibilia. et materia est conveniens applicata. ergo semper ibi debet esse dolor / patet quod natura ex alteriori sequitur. Eo quia ibi est agens passo disposito sufficienter applicatum cum temporis consistencia ergo etc. Amplius materia illa in panniculis est continue et principaliter aucta. ergo saltem in panniculis cerebri debet dolorem facere extensivum quod expugnat formalem racionem doloris per podagra et experiencie etc. Pro solucione horum motivorum vesicandum est primo modus quo dolores per podagram in cerebro fiant. t(ertio) a. 2° v. cap° primo. Consultam in anathomia de hac materia per me preter expositam grandi nunc di-mitto. Et ex horum fundamentis plura potes solvere problemata.
Primum propter quid in stegitativa opilati porrectas vias nequaquam odorant odorabilia neque percipiunt fetida aut diminute hoc faciunt. Sicut enim pura existente opilacione parum odorant et di-minute, ita completa existente opilo-ne nullomodo odorare possunt.
2m problema est. Quare quidam homines pure alii vero non ita perfecte odorant. Quibus enim est complexio in anteriori parte cerebri mala est odoratus et diminutus. Quibus vero est perfectus siccitatis melior est odoratus ut de coleris comparatis ad flegmaticos et de melancolicis ad sanguineos.
Licet enim in sanguineo propter augmentum humiditatis debet esse imperfectior olfactus. In melico vero perfectus eius propter maiorem expurgationem et excitationem organorum. Que in eis est tamen quia calor fortior est in sanguineo quam in melico ipse tunc maiori augmento humi-perfectius odorat. Quoniam virtus melicorum que debilis est tunc minori quantitate humidi certe.
Et ex collatis in hoc capitulo diligenter dico quod nocumentum in odoratu contingere potest ex parte vel nocumentis diversas partes convenientium. Quorum primum est ex parte virtutis 2m ex parte instrumenti. 3m ex parte organi principalis percipientis olfactum. 4m ex parte medii scilicet sapientis et colli-gentis aerem immixtum vel informatum speciebus vel vaporibus ab odorabili corpore elevatis.
5m est propter nocumentum inventum in membris attractivis aeris de quibus ultimum est ex parte membro-rum vel narium per quas predictus aer defertur ad organum olfactus. Et primum quidem horum declaratur quoniam cum virtus tota cerebri debilis fuerit tunc membra non possunt operationes producere que necesse sunt ad bene esse individui. Unde et propter hoc in senibus et debilibus a generatione et resolutis in longis egritudinibus et in fortibus euacuationibus odoratus ut in pluribus aufertur aut sal-tem ut in pluribus diminuitur.
2m vero nocumentum ex parte instrumenti scilicet spiritus animalis qui de-fertur a cerebro ad carunculas mamillares declaratur quoniam potentia olfactiva non exit in operationem suam aut propter penuriam spiritus predicti quod contingere potest propter opilationes cadentes in pari nervorum qui oriuntur ab anteriori parte cerebri. Si igitur in principio eorum ortus a cerebro aut in medio eorum aut in altera extrema parte ipsorum tractus in subam caruncularum contingit opilatio, tunc aut erit completa et negabitur omnis transitus spiritus predictorum et accidet inde ablatio olfactus sicut credo in hoc vico contingere.
Si autem opilatio semicompleta fuerit tunc accidet diminutio in operatione sensus olfactus ut intelligebis. Contingit etiam quod penuria vel paucitas spiritus propter fortes euacuationes a capite distrahentes similiter et quandoque

Contingit nocumentum in olfactu ex parte qualitatis spiritus uel distemperie in genere sua. et non potest esse instrumentum operacionis conueniens / quia non bene mobilis nec penetrabilis in substanciam caruncularum propter frigiditatem suam. Secundo quia sine calore s[ed] actuali uel potenciali sensitiuum non generatur. 3o de anima colligendum. Similiter etiam si contingit spiritum in suo genere ualde distemperatum esse in calore tunc dato quod expellatur a cerebro cum debita sui quantitate. tamen non poterit esse conueniens instrumentum potencie olfactiue. Aut quia in via consumitur eius a cerebro ad carunculas / aut in carunculis iam receptus. plus inseruit exalabit. quam recipiat a carunculis temperamentum. quo producto olfactiua potencia operatur. Et iterum similiter contingit nocumentum in olfactu propter permutacionem spiritus in substancia ut quia nimium grossus et vaporibus turbulentis commixtus non potest bene modificari a forma caruncularum ita ut fiat instrumentum olfactui conueniens. Et eciam poterit hoc contingere propter permutacionem spiritus ad magnam subtilitatem et vaporacionem. Ex quibus apparet quod nocumentum in olfactu contingere potest ex parte instrumenti valde pauca subtilia et transpirabilia / sicut econtrario quando contingit spiritum esse grossum et frigidum uel vaporibus commixtum. Utrum autem olfactiua operacio noceri possit per augmentum quantitatem spirituum cum debita ipsius generacione et modo substanciali questio est. que non indiget hic discussione. Sed credo ego quod stante temperamento spiritus in qualitatibus primis et 2is et si quantitate augeatur spiritus non posset tamen operacio olfactiua per ipsius augmentum ledi aliqua lesionis specie. Licet aliqui crediderint oppositum esse verum // 3m vero de premissis declarandum est. quod propter nocumentum contingens in principali organo olfactus impeditur operacio ipsius. De hoc autem huius olfactiue operacionis organo. varie sunt inuente opiniones. Quidam enim crediderunt tale organum esse duos ventriculos anteriores cerebri. ponentes additamenta mamillaria cerebri non esse principale organum olfactus. sed solum receptiuum actus uel specierum obiectorum. Secundo quia aut ista additamenta sunt partes cerebri. que communicant cum eo nomine et diffinicione. ergo erunt productiue operacionis cerebri cum sint cerebri partes. Si vero dicatur quod tales non sunt de substancia cerebri tunc oportet necessario collocare eas sub denominacione alicuius membrorum simplicium aut compositorum. et non poterit assignari hoc/ nisi dicatur quod sint de essencia medulle. et tunc necessario disputando probabitur quod erunt de eadem medullari substancia qua cerebrum est. et stabit tunc vitans discursus precedentis quod hec operacio olfactiua appropriabitur cerebro ut prius deductum est. Si autem dicatur quod eponente sunt sub denominacione aliorum membrorum simplicium tunc hoc videtur impossibile / quoniam caruncule mamillares non sunt caro / non neruus non os / nec cartilago igitur etc. Et pari racione non potest dici quod sint membra composita. quia nec brachium nec pes nec cor non erat etc. Tunc igitur ex relinquitur igitur secundum hanc opinionem quod principale organum olfactus est cerebrum quod erat deducendum

sententia A. in 7a 2v capitulo pre-allegato dum dicit quod odoratus est in radice scilicet in cerebro quod est organum manifestum sensui omnium.
Altera autem opinio ponit quod principale organum olfactus sint caruncule mamillares. Ro. quia quamvis aer cum speciebus odorabilibus vel vaporibus eius deferatur ad eas, tamen cito et instantanee fit sensatio, sed non tam cito vel instan-tanee videtur aerem talem deferri posse ad cerebrum. ergo non poterit fieri tam subita vel instantanea odorabilis obiecti sensatio.
Consequens autem repugnat experi-encie. igitur relinquitur quod in carunculis fundatur virtus vel po-tencia olfactus. Et clare tetigit Galienus opinionem in 7a 2v capitulo primo ubi inquit Et anathomiam insterminatam quo fit odoratus su-perius ostendit anothomia nasi quia nasus includit carunculas in sui anothomia. Et subiungit aliud quod sunt instrumentum odoratus sunt duo additamenta mamillaria que sunt in anteriori cerebro, et exteduntur, i. ex parte a duobus ventriculis anterioribus cerebri, 2a vero opinio posuit quod principale organum olfactus est cerebrum simul cum predictis carunculis mamillaribus. Credidit enim hec opinio quod carunculis mamillaribus passe non posse perduci operationem olfactivam absque aliis partibus duorum ventriculorum anteriorum cerebri. Et clare expressit Galienus opinionem A. preallegato capitulo 7a 2v ubi inquit Et ex duabus extremitatibus eius ac-cipit cerebrum et duo addi-tamenta simplex mamillaria nata ex eo sunt cerebro odorem, i. speciem odoris cum attraccione aeris.

Ego autem credo quod in partibus mamillaribus iam predictis radicaliter fundatur operatio olfactiva propria quia videtur potencia ipsarum exit in actum olfaciendi cum debitis circumstanciis ad operandum requisitis. Item olfactus est potencia exterior sensitiva. sed omnes alie potencie sensitive exteriores habent membrum adequatum in quo fundantur igitur et ista. 3a Gene-ratio sicut in aliis virtutibus quibusdam aliis partibus cerebri cellulis fundantur diverse virtutes. Declaratur operationem productam ita non inquit in carunculis que sunt essenciales partes cerebri fundari potenciam olfactivam Et prima pars antecedentis est vera. Ro. quia in anteriori vetriculo sensus communis et fantasia. in medio vero ventriculo cerebri virtus ymaginativa et cogitativa locantur. in posteriori vero memoria. Igitur et in partibus mamillaribus simili racione po-terit olfactiva potencia collo-cari. Amplius ex sola caru-cularum mamillarium lesione generali corporali et unitate absque alicuius partium cerebri lesione leditur olfactiva operatio et non econtra. sed quod per lesionem partium aliquarum cerebri non ledatur operatio olfactiva igitur in carunculis ~~olef~~ mamillaribus principaliter potencia olfactiva collocatur quod erat deducendum.
Et nota quod motiva prima satis persuadendo probant, Aliorum vero ultimum motivum videtur a priori et a posteriori probare satis si bene consideras. Et ex horum omnium summa concluditur si leditur operatio olfactiva lesione appropriata membro ipsius productivo

Et ultra ex istis concluditur quod ad perfectam curationem huius dispositionis necesse est cognoscere partem vel partes ex quarum nocumento contingat lesio in operatione olfactus quarum rectificatio et vera curatio est necessaria.

Capitulum 3m sectionis 2e de causis ymaginationum vel corrupte visionis in hoc viro existentis

Iam vero ex predictis videtur esse acceptum fundamentum verificationis huius dispositionis scilicet ymaginationum. Ideo quia in cerebro huius viri et toto capite eius propter debilitatem generantur et congregantur vapores multi qui commiscentur spiritui animali et deferuntur ad organum visionis quod est cristaloydes. Et secundum quod contingit hos vapores turbulentos esse vel opacos vel colore quodam tinctos subcitrinum vel subrubeum ita contingit potentiam visivam corrupte iudicare de speciebus obiectorum visibilium. Ita quod quandoque potentia visiva iudicat vel apprehendit colores illos qui commiscentur speciebus obiectorum exteriorum esse exteriores dato quod in aere non talis color existat qualis representatur organo et potentie visive a predictis vaporibus qui commixti sunt spiritui visibili et colorati talibus coloribus. Et ex istis ratio concluditur quod similiter potentia visiva corrupte percipit vel iudicat quandoque corpora in aere exterius moveri circulariter vel lateraliter vel secundum ascensum et descensum vel perforata vel in modum rotis secundum quod contingit vapores predictos spiritui visibili commixtos in spiritu predicto efficere motum rotationis vel alterius de predictis. Et secundum quod contingeret ipsos vapores variis situbus situari qui commixti sunt spiritui iam predicto, propter quod apparet quod volenti canonice curare operationes predictas necesse est has nocumenti causas productas advenientes cognoscere. Et hoc similiter colligere potes 3a 3a lectione prime partis capitulo de ymaginationibus dicentem inquam ymaginationes sunt colores qui sentiuntur cum visu. amplitudinem canalis ramifi-efficere nocumentum posset. Item

3a etiam causa corruptionis digestionis stomachi et ardoris in eo potest esse ma salsa

4a vero causa potest esse ex parte ciborum plurium qui in quorundam hominum stomachis corrumpi consueverunt ut patet de ovis et frixionibus et sicorruptionis concurrere possunt passionum anime contristantium mentem et corpus angustare faciencium applicacio evitari debet quoniam spiritus aut suffocatus detinetur et coartatur in istis aut per continuum et repentinum motum resolvitur et consumitur. Aut quia motum spiritum magis et inordinatum ad diversas dictas partes membri movet de intus ad extra aliquando vero econtra distrahuntur. quare sepe magis corrupcione corrumpuntur. Similiter etiam passiones anime per quas in motu vehemenciori ponuntur spiritus et humorales membri evitari debent. velut ira vehemens furor et consimilia accidentia propter causas allegatas. Et maxime quia propter tales vehementes fit motus in spiritibus et humoribus. Cum augmentatur naturalis motus tremoris preexistens et fixus. Si enim iracundia magna in homine sano non habente cordis motum preter naturam talia evenire possunt ut sensus ostendit quanto forcius talia contingere possunt in hiis qui iam lesi sunt et egrotantes. quare omnia evitanda sunt propter vehementer corporis agitacionem quem efficiunt. Ipsa enim extenuant et mutant corpus ab eo que est secundum naturam consistencia ut 3o tegni. Capitulum octavum et ultimum de convenienti administratione ciborum et potuum Conformiter predictis sermonem faciendo de regimine huius viri per administracionem ciborum et potuum etc. quod regimine eius per cibos ipse cibales dictos convenienter fieri debent. Tales

Attamen invenientia cibus quandoque actus vestitur plurimum sunt operantes a qualitate et a materia sunt. Ideo de talium ciborum applicacione dicendum quod omnes tales cibi et potus huic viro sunt convenientes qui sunt a materia operantes et habent qualitates remissas ut caliditatem siccitatem humiditatem et siccitate. Et quod inter eliquos convenientiores erunt ei omnes qui non transcendunt qualitates primi gradus. aut parum in mansionis 2i gradus. Portulaca vero et lactuca non comedantur simpliciter nisi commixta cum herbis calidis supradictis.
Lactuca enim tamen quod multa sua frigiditate stupefaciat et opilat et visum nocet. Avicenna enim usus eius obtenebrat visum ut dicitur in proprio capitulo. Eruca etc. que corrumpit sanguinem dimittenda est et similiter portulaca quia est difficilis digestionis. De salsis vero quibus conduntur sapores lauda-bilis est succus araciorum et limo-num non valde salitorum et grana-torum et agresta non multum salita et acetum mediocriter acutum.
Et vinum coctum et precipue cum aptibus refrangibilibus ipsum ab aptitudine opilationis quam habet. Sucus vero at non est vobis utilis nisi tempore magni estus et sitis. De conditis vero placet michi napi conditi et olive non multum salite et citrulli conditum et cucurbite et mirabolani, kebuli et citrini conditum. Zinziber vero conditum non utamini frequenter et parum assuendum est ex eo. Citonia condita non placet michi nisi post cibum et in pauca quantitate. Karote vero et napi conditi et pira condita post cibum omnia laudabilia sunt. De confectionibus vero placet michi pinee confecte amigdale, sed pinearum usus deberet esse ut infundantur in aquam calidam ubi stent per unam diem naturalem renovando eam bis.
Pistacia autem conditi magni sunt iuvamenti ad omnes fere dispositiones vestras. Coriandrum conditum post cibum etiam conveniret vobis. Avellane vero condite et precipue

Cum fuerint depilate et bene tortefacte miabil laudis gesste vobis. Eo quia conveniunt cere in tantum ut augmentum efficiant in eis et sunt stomacales et mirabili laude digerentur ad epar. Cinamomum conditum etiam cum zuc confectum et citonia confecta et aliud et specie cum zuc albo laudabilia sunt vobis. Confectio vero aloe vel de oleo amigdalorum dulcium cum zuc et amilo facta quod multi ytalicorum nominant marsapanum non est vobis laudabilis. Eo quia emollit et nauseat stomachum licet restauracionem efficiat in corporibus extenuatis. De confectionibus que intencioni medicali subserviunt magis quam cibali erit inferius sermo, ubi cuiuscumque predictorum accidencium preclare regimen conscribetur. Hec de cibis sufficiant. Potus autem eius esse debeat vinum album vel gaurum colore citrinum nominatum et nullo modo nigrum valde. Substancia vero sit tenue a fumositatibus limosis et terreis partibus denudatum odore vero suave vel bene aromaticum sapore leniter dulce aut ad lene ponticum mediatum. Ponticum satis fumosum magis quam aquosum. Et si tale habere poterit bibatur purum et nullo aqua permixtum. Si autem inveniretur vinum fumosum et ab his condicionibus elongatum tunc frangatur cum aqua laudabili cisterne aut saltem cum aqua puteali vel fluviali percocta et desiccata. Et si cum predicta aqua tempore hiemis coquetur modicum de cinamo subtili vel quantitas duorum granorum frumenti laudabile foret. Tempore vero estivo a medio Maii usque ad medium Septembris laudabile foret cum predictis aquis coquere dragmam semis de seminibus citrie in qualibet fiala chellis vini vel zuc usus in potibus aquarum potabilium non est in delectu multum et specie mel licet zucarum in abacyis laudabile sit non in multo usu. Chel autem nequaquam michi placet in eius. Hec in summa de potu sufficiant.

Cum igitur primum accidens erat podagra predicte affligens ipsum a coleria vitellina proveniens ideo circa curacionem huius et aliorum accidencium singulariter est ponendus. Statimque cum accideret dolor ille tam venarum et temporum et faciei extensionem et plenitudinem cum rubicunditate coloris ad citrinitatem mediati cum pulsatione et aliquanta punctione et calitate percepta in capite pulsus magnus et plenus apparuit et vena grossa et in tinctura notabiliter elevata fuit statim flebotometur eidem cephalica dextri lateris in manu et educatur sanguinis ℥ iii. ad iiii. premissa tamen ventris lenitate congrua naturaliter aut artificialiter administrata. Sicut videri ex hiis que leguntur 3ᵛ 2ᵃ· in capitulo de ygiatione et ex hiis que colligi possunt ex parte 3ᵛ tᵉ· 7º capitulo de vertigine omnes hee dispositiones videlicet scotomia vertigo et vertigines sive delusiones conveniunt in hoc quia sunt nocumenta sensus visus, differunt tamen parum a dictis predictis, quia dato quod in vertigine assignetur nocumentum corruptionis visus, tamen in eo etiam est nocumentum corruptionis motive potentie quia aer in ea tota quiescentia circulariter moveri, et est in ea nocumentum diminutionis· sustentive vel retentive potentie, quia apparet homini quod quasi cadat, et adhuc accidit in eo nocumentum fixionis vel detentionis· ita quod quasi cadit. Et per hoc sufficit assignari differentiam inter vertiginem ex una parte et scotomiam et vertigines ex alia parte, tamen a sapientibus colligi potest differentia essentialis inter predicta. Eo quia causa nocumenti in vertigine ponitur in cerebro· quia motus in spiritibus aut in ventriculis aut in concavitatibus cerebri contenti

Et ideo tamen licet differentia ex parte locorum assignata levis est et parva· non est magna differentia curationis in intentionibus et instrumentis medicalibus ab auctoribus assignata. Et maxime quia omnia predicta conveniunt in genere cause efficientis sive materialis humoralis scilicet vel vaporis vel ventositatum eius. Dispositio huius nobilis le deduci potest ex actibus multum accurate notatis subtiliter atque profundius investigatis per clarissimos doctores petrum salmonensem et baptistam, medicum qui huius dispositionis veritatem accurate multum rimati sunt Est principalis egritudo in ea mala complexio frigida et humida sicce cerebri, unde totius capitis cum membranis suis titudine per commissuras ad extra propulsas tanta enim et tot artera non bene saluari possunt ut passe fiant a mala complexione cerebri longa fuit lapsus est in magnum debilitatem mala complexio partibus exterioribus fuit et potuit esse causa humoris membris flegmaticis per via etiam generatus primo 2o et 3o paribus nervorum a quibus primis spondilibus vementium Ex quo saltus in oculo principaliter a noto panniculorum et cerebri generatur, dum

Un est dubitabile apud peritos in theorica medicine quod egritudo nobilis viri Jo. Francisci de Ursis senis · pendet a dispositione dupliciter membri principalis · prima quidem est dispositio cerebri per essentiam · 2a vero est epatis per colligantiam · que dispositio quidem naturalis est a principio fuit calida ut ex signis deduci possit ut ex calore in toto capite precipue ex nigredine capillorum grossitudine et aliquali crispitudine eorum ex velocitate operum intellectus similiter ex aliis signis congregatis · tamen dispositio praeter naturam cerebri ipsius ut magis esse magis frigida denominanda et humida quam calida quod ex multis contingere potuit ut ex frequenti applicatione ad actum studendi · et ex usu infrante a quibusdam eorum non naturalium preter · sive ex cibis sive ex potibus sive ex multo coitu preueniunt illud · sive contingit permutatio cerebri a causis corporalibus ut propter debilitate digestive stomachi · vel tamen iam manifeste videri potest quod in capite eius colligit multa materia mucillaginosa et aquosa · que et si ab infantibus membris ad caput tota propulsa fuisset ipsa tamen propter temporis longitudinem de naturate permutavit cerebrum ad frigiditatem et humiditatem · cum egritudines ob cronicas sunt dispositiones sunt frigide ut colligitur per 4a 3 vi can. de vita eminentie · Ex quo fundamento autem intelligi posse · quare egritudo istius viri fuit et est forte [illegible] quia ipsa est lapsus ad similem complexionem temporis · etatis · et pluribus aliis · Quod vero quod hec dispositio sit per essentiam · apparet propter diuturnitate temporis 2o vero propter continuam fere effusionem materie a capite · Si enim egritudo foret passio per colligantiam ab epate impossibile foret · epar [illegible] tamdiu et tantam materiam transmittere capiti quanta effunditur ab eo · 3o etiam quod hec egritudo sit per essentiam apparet ex dolore capitis gravitate eius et extensione ipsius egritudinis ad frontem tempora et posteriores partes · oportet igitur dicere quod egritudo hec secundum magnam partem est dispositio cerebri per essentie notitiam eius · Ad vero egritudo hec secundum partem notabilem · dependeat ab epate ex multis deduci potest · primo quia maius notatum quod in capite vidi fixum · atque est in toto medietate dextra capitis eius · sed hec potest esse signum notum cerebri per colligantiam eius ad epar ut patet 3 vi can. 1 fen. Iterum 2o hoc deducitur ex parte materie que in sapore suo quasi salsedinem quasi semper et aliquam amaritudinem representat · Amaritudo autem non potest provenire nisi a colera aut vapore eius ab epate quantitate ad cerebrum · 3o iterum quod salsedo in [illegible]

Sunt autem egritudines in hoc viro prima quidem est mala accidens est descensus ille catar-est asma. Tertium est tussis fortis cum multitudine sputi. Quartum est coriza vel impeditio digestionis.

Quintum est fluxus dolorum quasi continuus. Sextum est dolor circa spatu-las et colli eminentes, qui quasi extenditur usque ad genu. Secunda principalis egritudo est mala complexio epatis calida et sicca cuius accidens est quasi continua febris superuenien-
